Family has to move out of new home for second time

FURTHER REPAIRS NECESSARY TO BOVIS HOMES BUILT HOUSE

EXCLUSIVE by
ANDERS LARSSON
anders@viewnews.co.uk

AN AXMINSTER family is in temporary accommodation for a second time to allow repairs to their new-build home.

Adam Sheldon and Jessica Michael bought their house in Brewer Avenue, Cloakham Lawns, off-plan from Bovis Homes and moved in in December 2014.

They immediately noticed faults, including a hole in the floor by the patio door and a stairwell frame that did not fit.

A Bovis Homes customer care manager visited the following month and made a list of 'snags'.

The couple and their young son moved in to temporary accommodation in April 2015 so the problems could be fixed.

Returning a month later they were still not satisfied, the ground floor's unevenness being a particular problem.

Adam and Jessica say they made their concerns clear to Bovis Homes but agreed to move back in because Jessica was heavily pregnant.

Having settled after the arrival of their second child, they asked Bovis Homes in August 2015 to come back and deal with the problems.

But they claim nothing happened, so the couple contacted the National House Building Council (NHBC) in February this year.

The NHBC duly despatched an inspector, who produced a 30-page resolution report in July and asked for action on 13 items including the lounge floor, gaps around kitchen windows, realignment of kitchen doors and loose slabs.

Part of the report said: "The absence of sealant leaves areas of the property vulnerable to water and insect infiltration."

"The living room floor undulates and is poorly laid."

"Walking over the floor it is apparent that there is a large ridge in the surface."

Adam's father Brian is a builder by trade and described the floor as "a skateboarder's dream" and added: "I spend more time here checking things than anywhere else."

Jessica said: "Thankfully we have someone with knowledge."

The couple moved in to temporary accommodation again in mid-November and expect to be there until at least mid-December.

Jessica said: "I wish we had never bought a new build. I'm so angry about it."

"If they offered to buy the house back, so we would never have to deal with Bovis again, I'd bite their hand off"

A spokesperson for Bovis Homes said: "Delivering excellent customer service is an absolute priority for us and we apologise to any customer who believes they have not received the high quality of finish and aftercare that our staff strive to deliver."

■ PATCHES: Jessica and her partner's father, Brian Sheldon, are not impressed with the patchy floor

"Out of respect for customer confidentiality we do not publicly comment on the details of individual home purchases, but we have been working closely with these customers and our contractors to carry out the outstanding works, and we will continue to do so to ensure the highest quality home is delivered."

"This is particularly disappointing as Cloakham Lawns is one of our most popular locations in the South West, with positive feedback and a high satisfaction rating from residents who have now set-up home there."

"There can, on occasion, be issues with any new-build property, but if this occurs we will resolve them under the terms of our two-year guarantee, and there is also a ten-year buildmark warranty from the National House Building Council in place."

Redundancies made at Arada

RENOWNED Axminster stove manufacturer Arada has made six production roles redundant.

Arada production manager Kevin Shurvington said: "Although we always aim to avoid this, it was a necessary business decision."

"The redundancies were based on numerous consultations with staff and a mutually agreed scoring system."

"There are no plans for any further redundancies and the future of Arada Ltd remains strong, both in new and current products, and from a financial aspect."

Following the redundancies, the total number of Arada staff at the Weycroft Avenue site in Axminster is 65.

INQUEST VERDICT

Humiliated husband's suicide after stabbing

A HUSBAND stabbed his estranged wife at her family's Dalwood home before killing himself and her because she'd left him, an inquest heard.

The bodies of Jane McCartney, 59, and Graham McCartney, 63, were found in May 2015 shortly after she had decided to end their 40-year marriage.

During a meeting to discuss financial arrangements of their divorce, he viciously attacked her with a knife and stabbed her in the stomach, a coroner heard.

She battled to fight him off but he had locked them both in the sitting room of the detached £500,000 bungalow in Dalwood.

The coroner heard that Graham had attached a car exhaust to a window in the property which filled up with carbon monoxide poisoning that eventually killed them both.

Their bodies were found a short while later by a prospective buyer who had been looking around the property.

The couple's son, George, told the inquest how he was concerned his father had been contemplating suicide following their break up of their long marriage.

The inquest heard his father sent him a letter in the post containing financial details and a note saying not to go to his grandfather's house and to call the police.

Graham McCartney

The note read: "I can't stand the humiliation anymore. "Look after your sister. I'm sorry."

The coroner recorded a verdict of suicide for Mr McCartney and death by unlawful killing for Mrs McCartney.

Call for more detail on Chancellor's transport and broadband statement

SOMERSET Chamber of Commerce welcomed the Chancellor's Autumn Statement overall, but called for more information about transport and broadband infrastructure investments.

Responding to the statement, Somerset Chamber of Commerce Chief Executive Dale Edwards, said: "Following ongoing uncertainty in the wake of the EU referendum result, businesses needed a clear message from the Chancellor that would provide confidence, certainty and inspiration, enabling them to grow and develop a robust UK economy.

"Although the Office for Budget Responsibility has highlighted revised downward Gross Domestic Product (GDP) figures in anticipation of the effects of Brexit, it is encouraging that the projections, whilst reducing next year, indicated an upward trajectory from 2018 onwards."

Mr Edwards added: "The announcements by the Chancellor regarding investment in transport infrastructure are welcomed, but more information is needed about where, when and how this will be spent, particularly for Somerset and the South West, which have been promised road and rail improvements in previous budgets that have not yet materialised."

Broadband speed and connectivity have been on the agenda for some time in the Somerset business community, and Mr Edwards said: "Whilst the broadband funding announcements are also very welcome, the government must ensure that counties such as Somerset, which has a geographically dispersed population and business community, are not left behind.

"There are still too many businesses here that are under-connected or not connected at all, and particularly given the government's drive to improve productivity, this must be a priority.

"Changes such as the increase in the National Living Wage, aligning of the employee and employer National Insurance thresholds, and new rules on taxation of employee benefits, all of which come into force in April 2017, will be of particular interest to business owners.

"The Chancellor's decision to scrap the Autumn Statement and Spring Budget in their current form, in favour of a single major fiscal policy event per year, is a positive one that will bring greater certainty and consistency for businesses."

Victory for villagers who fought power station plan

ANDERS LARSSON
Chief reporter

CAMPAIGNERS are celebrating after people power forced the withdrawal of a controversial power station planning application in Hawkchurch.

Applicant Stor Power Ltd withdrew the application on November 21st, saying the decision was based on concerns raised by residents.

Residents were up in arms when plans for the gas-fired energy reserve facility off Stonebarrow Lane were revealed, saying it was totally unsuitable for Hawkchurch.

The application included a building with a footprint of up to 45.2metres x 20.5 metres, a roof height of 10 metres and stack height of 13 metres.

Residents were assisted by two groups, Frack Free Lyme Regis and Turn Lyme Green, in a campaign which generated newspaper headlines, television coverage and more than 400 objections sent to East Devon District Council's (EDDC) planning department.

Tracey West of Frack Free Lyme Regis commented on the withdrawal by saying: "I'm absolutely beside myself with excitement.

"Lots of people spread the word 'help' and that is how the campaign got together.

"It is a victory for people power." Frack Free Lyme Regis member Simon West added: "The withdrawal shows that residents still have the power to influence planning decisions."

Turn Lyme Green secretary Polly Benfield said: "This is a victory for the community and for the hundreds who responded to our call for action, sending letters of objection to the planners."

A Frack Free East Devon spokesperson commented: "This must be a huge win for the village, but it's also fantastic news for the rest of East Devon and West Dorset.

"The proposed gas fired power station would be part of the infrastructure for the shale industry. Frack Free East Devon strongly opposes the use of such a controversial technique that will industrialise our countryside."

Frack Free Lyme Regis member Peonie Rosewood took an active part in the campaign, and recalled: "It was certainly worth standing with all those like-minded people who care so much for our beautiful countryside.

"There were more people who felt the same, who were unable to be with us for the occasion.

"They were certainly there in spirit. Several people passed by and cheered in support."

Stor Power Ltd is, however, investigating the possibility of building what is known as a battery storage solution instead.

In correspondence with EDDC, a company agent wrote: "Having given careful consideration to the concerns raised by consultees and local residents, the applicant has decided to withdraw the current application and to investigate the option of a battery storage solution at this site, as suggested as being preferable by a number of objectors to the current scheme."

Campaigners sent a strong message to the planners

Police catch 50 drivers on mobile phone

ANDERS LARSSON
Chief reporter

A WEEK-LONG Devon and Cornwall Police campaign against driving and using a mobile phone at the same saw almost 50 drivers caught.

The operation was carried out across the force area in mid-November, the aim being to highlight the dangers of using a handheld mobile device while driving, and send a clear message at the same time.

Unmarked police vehicles patrolled the two counties, and a total of 48 drivers were stopped for using a mobile phone while driving.

Numerous other traffic offences were also dealt with, including 21 motorists with no insurance and 84 stopped for excess speed - 17 of which were reported to court for speeding above 95 mph.

Nine vehicles were found to have no valid MOT and seven vehicles were not taxed.

Roads policing inspector Pete Thomas said: "We hope this campaign has encouraged some people to never again use their handheld phone while driving.

"We know that the mobile phone is an important part of many people's lives and some people think a quick call or text while driving does no harm.

"They are wrong. It is dangerous. A distraction of a second or two can be the difference between getting home OK or having a serious, potentially fatal collision. Don't risk it."

Throughout the week updates and messages were posted each day on Twitter and Facebook, resulting in numerous conversations and hundreds of likes and shares.

During the week the number of comments, shares, likes and retweets totalled 10,430.

Inspector Thomas added: "Our roads policing officers are out every day targeting motorists who break the law.

"However, we all need to take responsibility. People are killed or seriously injured as a direct consequence of drivers distracted by a mobile device.

"These tragedies are avoidable. I want to thank everyone who has shared and commented on our posts last week - these people have played an active role in spreading these really important messages."

Lisa calls time on shop

by Anders Larsson
anders@viewnews.co.uk

FOOTFALL ISSUE: Lisa Lyman will not renew her shop's lease

APPLE Tree Gift Shop owner Lisa Lyman has decided to close her business, saying local people must support local shops or they will lose them.

The former Axminster Chamber of Commerce chairman also says the appearance of the town centre must improve to attract shoppers.

She will trade until Christmas before closing, and fears she will not be the only business owner having to pull the plug.

Mrs Lyman's lease is up for renewal, and she made the decision not to renew. The closure will also affect 60 artisans whose work is sold in the shop (previously known as Apple Tree Galleries).

Having recorded increased takings year-on-year for four years, there was a dramatic change this summer signalled by Brexit.

She said: "You could tell the day after Brexit, that was it. I took £20 that day, with at least a couple of hundred pounds having been the norm."

The negative spiral has continued and Mrs Lyman said: "In October takings dropped more than 50 per cent compared to the previous October."

"Everybody who comes in are still saying the shop is beautiful and amazing, so it is not something I have done wrong – but they aren't buying anymore."

"People in Axminster need to know that if they don't spend their money in the local shops, they won't have any local shops."

Apart from people holding onto their money after Brexit, she believes there are additional reasons for slow trade. Homes-in-Style moving from premises on the corner opposite George Hotel hasn't helped footfall and, because of the lease, it would have been too much of a gamble to wait and see if Costa moving in would have a positive effect.

She also said: "The town has to improve how it looks to attract shoppers. Just look outside, there is mold growing on walls and adverts for alcohol."

"I don't see how that is appropriate for Axminster, but maybe I'm wrong."

Mrs Lyman introduced a number of new initiatives when she took over as chamber of commerce chairman in 2013. But her new concepts failed to lift because members, including herself, did not have the time required.

She is calling for the town council to appoint a town manager with a brief to promote Axminster, something she lobbied for when chamber chairman.

Axminster mayor Paul Hayward was present when Mrs Lyman talked to Pulman's Weekly News and said: "I would echo Lisa's comments that a local community needs to support its local shops."

Carnival boost for local good causes

IT WAS a joyous occasion when Axminster Carnival presented cheques totalling £3,000 to local worthy causes.

The presentation took place at Axminster Inn on Thursday, November 17th, and carnival press officer Ron Jones said: "This was only possible with the help of the public on carnival night, which was a great evening."

"The carnival committee would like to thank all on carnival night for their generosity, which has enabled us to present all monies collected to these 14 charities."

"Also a very big thank you to all the collectors for their help."

"Without them, this evening would not be possible."

Fundraising for Pudsey

■ PUPILS from Honiton Primary School donned spotty clothes to raise money for Children in Need

CHILDREN from Honiton Primary School went 'spotacular' for BBC Children in Need the week before last.

BBC Children in Need's exciting new schools' fundraising campaign, The Big Spotacular, encouraged children and teachers to dress up in spots, sell spotty cakes and goods, and take part in spotty themed challenges, all to raise more money than ever before for disadvantaged children and young people.

As part of Honiton Primary School's fundraising plans, pupils dressed up in the spottiest outfits imaginable, attended a whole school assembly where they learnt all about Children in Need and held a cake sale after school.

Mr. Lopez said "We've really enjoyed raising money for BBC Children in Need this year. The children loved going spotty for The Big Spotacular."

"The online resources and free fundraising kit really added value to our activities."

Stuart Beaver, director of partnership and community programmes at Lloyds Banking Group, who worked in partnership to organise the event with Children in Need, said: "Our partnership with Children in Need continues to produce fantastic results, in particular with the brilliant fundraising happening in schools across the country."

"The partnership continues to form an important part of the group's Helping Britain Prosper Plan, with education one of the key pillars in helping to address some of the big issues facing the people, businesses and communities of Britain today."

"Handing the fundraising planning over to the children was a great success last year, and it has been lovely to see so many schools turn their fundraising activity 'spotacular' this year."

■ STAFF and pupils at Axminster Primary Academy adopted a spotted theme for BBC's Children in Need Appeal. They did so by wearing non-uniform outfits and also sold spotty cakes during breaks. Another activity was a coin fill exercise (pictured) which saw Pudsey take shape as the coin box was emptied

FIVE Axminster-based firefighters have been commended for their actions at the scene of a head-on collision this year.

The Axminster crew was the first blue light service to respond and was faced with six casualties with severe injuries.

Because of their work, crew members have been awarded the Chief Fire Officer's (CFO) Commendation.

Watch Commander 34 Axminster Ian Turner said: "This is a huge honour.

"I am extremely proud of our personnel and their actions during this incident."

The crash happened on the Devon/Dorset border in January and the commendation said: "The Axminster crew was faced with an extremely stressful and traumatic situation where their professionalism was tested to its limits.

"The incident involved two vehicles that had been involved in a head-on collision.

"One vehicle contained a family of four where all members were trapped within the vehicle, and one occupant was deteriorating rapidly.

"The other vehicle consisted of two occupants that had either managed to climb out of the vehicle or had been ejected from the vehicle.

"Both were lying on the road side with severe injuries.

"Darren Gould had to make the immediate and quick decision to deploy all his personnel to the scene in order to carry out an immediate triage in order to prioritise his actions.

"It was as a result of the accurate and swift response from the crews that Darren Gould could make a swift assistance message which allowed the large amount of resources required to be mobilised. This communication is a testament to the team work and trust that the crew had in one another and without a doubt had an impact upon the rest of the incident.

"The nature of the entrapments resulted in the crews having to employ an emergency plan for their extrication.

"This resulted in the application of newly taught techniques and principles.

"The crews carried out their tasks in extreme pressure working to a tight time frame at an incredibly high tempo in a professional and correct manner.

"By now, paramedics had started to arrive and such was the need for immediate treatment the crews had to work alongside the paramedics in a tight and constricted space.

"Both services, despite having different objectives in order to achieve the overall aim, achieved this without delay, distraction or frustration.

"I believe that through the adoption of these techniques they saved around 15 minutes in extricating the casualties.

"After the extrication of the first casualty, the crews continued to work at an extremely high pace sparing no seconds by space creating around the remaining casualties."

On presenting the commendation, CFO Lee Howell said: "I am proud to acknowledge Devon and Somerset crews working in this manner, along with the other blue light services and Dorset and Wiltshire Fire and Rescue Service."

Xylem staff help out at Wetlands

■ GRAFTERS: Barry Cooke, Andrew Horn, Julie Burke, Dave Palmer (EDDC), Adam Parkinson, Mark Pemberton and James Chubb (EDDC)

STAFF from Axminster-based Xylem Water Solutions changed jobs for a day when they volunteered at Seaton Wetlands Nature Reserve and worked with East Devon District Council's (EDDC) Countryside Rangers.

The group spent the day under the guidance of the ranger team, collecting and burning soft rush cuttings in preparation for the winter flooding of the site.

James Chubb, one of the Countryside team leaders, said that it was great to welcome the five staff for a corporate day of volunteering.

He added: "While the five staff from Xylem spent the morning volunteering, we were able to explain the ecological benefits of the work they were doing.

"This is hugely rewarding for groups of volunteers who can look back and see what they have helped to achieve during the day."

Xylem is a global water technology company and one of its three main UK sites is based in Axminster.

Peggy Alcock of Xylem said that the organisation is celebrating its fifth anniversary with a global month of service.

She added: "As part of this work, volunteers from across our business are getting hands on in a series of waterway clean-ups.

"We are absolutely delighted to be able to support Seaton Wetlands' work, particularly as it will help prepare for winter floods, an issue elsewhere that we deal with all too regularly for our customers."

Seaton Wetlands, which is managed by the council's Countryside team, is supported by a dedicated team of volunteers who meet most Tuesdays to undertake a range of tasks.

The support of corporate volunteering helps fulfil additional tasks.

To find out more about supporting the work of the Countryside team please visit www.wildeastdevon.co.uk or contact the team through email countryside@eastdevon.gov.uk or phone 01395 517557.

Grant greenlights next stage of work at Thomas Whitty House

AXMINSTER Heritage can begin the next stage of the Thomas Whitty House restoration thanks to a 'generous' grant.

Trustees did not disclose the amount received from Making it Local for LEADER (MIL), but Axminster Heritage chairman John Church said: "We are most grateful that we have received a generous grant from MIL which will enable us to continue with the development of Thomas Whitty House by renovating the 18th Century dye house and providing a toilet block."

The Dye House is the only part of the original factory that survived the 1828 fire which destroyed most of the premises.

Thomas Whitty set up his clothmaking business in 1737 in what is now Silver Street. He started to weave carpets in 1755 on the same site.

After his death in 1792, his son and grandson continued the business which later became known as Axminster Carpets.

Mr Church said: "The Dye House has been derelict for many years.

"Now 300 years from the date of Thomas Whitty's birth (1716) it seems very appropriate that, thanks to this MIL grant, we can start its restoration."

This first part of the final phase of the Axminster Heritage Centre project will now start this winter – ahead of schedule. The work will also see the old toilet block demolished and new toilets/kitchenette constructed, the rear windows of the Drill Hall will be restored and the large double doors to the garden replaced and repositioned.

The Heritage Centre Exhibition Hall will reopen in the spring incorporating the new extended space for the collection, as well as the Dye House and garden.

● MIL is a European grant fund, managed locally with the aim of developing opportunities for improving the rural economy and quality of life for people living and working in the area.

Lions organise coach to Bridgwater Carnival

A COACH trip to Bridgwater Carnival, organised by Axminster and District Lions Club, went down a treat.

The outing took place on Saturday, November 5th, and also picked up passengers in Seaton and Musbury.

Lion Martin Mynard said: "The excursion was an amazing success, so successful that the size of the coach had to be increased twice – one at very short notice – to accommodate those who wanted to travel to the carnival.

"One traveller had not gone since the late 1950s.

"Appreciation goes to Seward's Coaches for all their assistance, without which the excursion would have not been the success it was."

Some travelers asked for the exercise to be repeated next year.

Mr Mynard added: "We are looking at running similar excursions in the future, look out for publicity in the local press.

"This excursion alone raised over £150 for local causes."

■ AXMINSTER Churches Together's campaign to raise £6,000 to sponsor a doctor in conflict-torn Syria formally started on November 24th.

A photocall at Axminster Post Office saw Elizabeth Lynn of Axminster Churches Together making a donation to kickstart the ambitious campaign.

A number of fundraisers are scheduled including a street collection on Thursday, December 1st, a lunch in the Guildhall on Saturday, December 3rd and a Rotary collection at Tesco on Thursday, December 22nd.

Donations (in envelopes marked Samara's Aid Appeal) can also be made at Axminster, Millwey Rise and Raymonds Hill post offices.

Online donations can be made through Barclays Bank to Samara's Aid Appeal, sort code 20-61-55, account number 23735869, reference 'Axminster'.

■ DONATION: Elizabeth Lynn, Simon Byworth (both Axminster Churches Together) and Janet Debono (Axminster Post Office) open the campaign

Steve's 40 years at Peco

THE management at Peco threw a party to pay tribute to one of their most loyal workers.

A small party of co-workers were invited to the boardroom to celebrate the 40th anniversary of Steve Somers' joining the company in Beer.

"I joined straight from Axminster School as a 16-year-old and initially worked in the factory," said Steve, who lives just a ten-minute stroll away from the company's headquarters.

"But I was also interested in gardening as a teenager so I eventually moved outside. Of course the gardens look nothing like they are now.

"Back then most of it was just fields, so it has been a lot of hard work by the team and many of the trees you see up there now I helped to plant as saplings!"

Steve is part of a dedicated team of three gardeners, also comprising Teresa Cook and Bob Margate and their efforts have helped transform the gardens into one of the biggest tourist attractions in East Devon.

"Steve is a very loyal and dedicated member of the gardening team and he has seen the gardens develop from just fields into what they are today," said Peco chairman Michael Pritchard.

As for 56-year-old Steve, he hopes to be back in the boardroom to celebrate his 50th anniversary before hanging up his spade.

"I think it will be my 50th or retirement!" added Steve.

Boost for hospice homecare service

DOCTOR Mark Welland and Seaton Friends Hospicecare @Home team leader Mary Ashby were delighted to receive a big boost to funds last week, writes KEVIN FAHEY.

The Beer Group of Friends for Cancer Research UK handed over a cheque for £1,500 comprising £1,000 from the recent Music 4 Life concert at the Mariners' Hall and £500 from the Beer Bag Project.

"This is a fantastic contribution towards the seven day, 24 hour service that we now provide," said Mary.

Dr Welland, who is chairman of the Seaton & District Hospital League of Friends, reiterated those sentiments.

"We have a wonderful service of palliative care which delivers first class care to the people of Seaton and Beer and it is entirely run on voluntary contributions so we are working hard to make it sustainable," said Dr Welland.

Annie Boalch handed over the cheque on behalf of the Beer Group of Friends.

"We have supported the work of Cancer Research for a long time but we just wanted to bring our fund-raising closer to home as we know people who have benefitted hugely from this wonderful service," said Annie.

"I can also say that next year we will be looking to organise an event that will solely raise money for Seaton Friends Hospicecare @Home."

FORCE Friends raise £888

THE Axe Valley Friends of FORCE held a coffee morning at Colyton Town Hall on Saturday. The event included a raffle and tombola, refreshments and stalls selling homemade cakes and produce, bric-a-brac and Christmas cards. A total profit of £888 was raised for FORCE, which will go towards the Oncology and Radiotherapy Centre at the Royal Devon & Exeter Hospital. Organisers would like to thank all those who supported the fundraiser.

Christmas comes to Colyford!

COLYFORD got into the festive spirit in Saturday, as St Michael's Chapel of Ease held its annual Christmas Fayre. The event was held in Colyford Memorial Hall and included a number of stalls selling Christmas gifts, decorations and local crafts, while volunteers were kept busy serving refreshments in the kitchen. Pictured above, members of the church congregation pictured running the raffle.

A special visitor at memory cafe

THERE was a special visitor at the November meeting of Colyton, Colyford & District Memory Cafe.

Willow the donkey visited from the Donkey Sanctuary, near Sidmouth, and those attending were delighted to get up close to the gentle animal.

A talk was also given by Dr Mike Wickins, entitled "My First Home was a Prefab" and everyone enjoyed reminiscing over fond memories of their childhood, including outside toilets, radio programmes such as 'Around the Horn' and 'The Clithero Kid', and setting up the tin bath for their weekly ablutions.

Next month the cafe, which is open to those suffering early dementia and their family and carers, will be on Wednesday, December 7th from 2pm to 4pm in the St John Hall, Colyton, where the group will be celebrating Christmas and taking the opportunity to wish each other a peaceful and happy festive season.

If you a friend or a loved one are experiencing short term memory loss or have been recently diagnosed with early dementia, you will receive a friendly welcome, a cup of tea and homemade cake, and an afternoon filled with fun and laughter.

Bold portrayal of risqué musical

L'MENTION "The Full Monty" and you are never far from a nudge and a wink. And there were plenty of those at Axminster Guildhall last week when Axminster Musical Theatre were bold enough to stage the story of out-of-work

American steelworkers who attempted to regain some of their self respect by stripping off and going all the way - in fact the Full Monty!

The former operatic society stuck religiously to the script of this American adaption lit-

Review by Philip Evans The Full Monty Axminster Musical Theatre

tered with profanities, sexual innuendos and eye-popping stage antics. In the first ten minutes alone, we endured liberal use of the f-word, a male bare bottom and a scene set the gents' lavatory in which one of the area's most talented stage performers was required to demonstrate how ladies can make use of male urinals discarding her knickers in the process!

The first show I reviewed at the Guildhall was "No No Nanette" in 1965 - this was going to be a very different experience.

This was the first "Full Monty" that experienced musical director Nick Lawrence had produced and one imagines that he insisted if you are going to perform a musical of this reputation, then the raw nature of the storyline had to be strictly adhered to.

The expectation of men getting their kit off certainly did nothing to harm box office takings with audience numbers being somewhere near a record.

On the first night when I attended there were few raised eyebrows during the interval, several nudge, nudge, wink, winks, but if the reaction of the audience encouragement was anything to go by, the majority had a thoroughly entertaining evening.

I certainly take my hat off to the six male cast members who were prepared to risk their reputation to overcome self-consciousness of shedding all to prove to their wives and family members that they could go one better than the Chippendale night club strippers.

The idea came from down-on-his luck Jerry Lukowski, trying hard to retain custody of his son. With his pal, the unemployed Dave Bukatinsky, they decided to show off their real-man bodies to make a quick buck and show the women of Buffalo, New York, who were going crazy over the pending arrival of the nightclub strippers, that they could do better.

They recruit an eclectic bunch to join their risqué intention and the action follows the friendship that emerges as they overcome their anxieties, drawing strength from each other, which eventually allows them to put to one side their inner demons in order to perform "The Full Monty".

This was not one of those musicals that leave you humming the blockbuster numbers as you leave the theatre. Whilst the music is very pleasant, it is not memorable.

Highlight for me was the Showbiz number from the experienced Alison Haines who was excellent in the role of the old professional piano player.

Neither is there a great deal of chorus work which has been one of the strengths of the Axminster society over the years.

Ally Hughes, with an impressive six-pack and a confident stage presence, put his acting skills to good use in the lead role of Jerry Lukowski, hovering between retaining his macho image but determined to make his young son proud of him.

He gelled well with Ian Crew who called on all his stage experience in a touching portrayal of the most human of characters, Dave Bukatinsky whose body image did not lend itself to total exposure.

With Jerry, he featured in a hilarious scene when they rescued the distressed Malcolm MacGrregor, sym-

Christmas time for pets

CHRISTMAS time, full of joy and cheer with the presents under the tree and Christmas dinner smelling better than ever! We as vets want to make sure that you and your pets have a fantastic Christmas without a trip to the practice.

Cats are often more fascinated by Christmas trees than us and like to climb and explore. Make sure your tree is very secure and any glass tree decorations or those with sharp edges are well out of the way of your intrigued feline. Cats also can enjoy a nibble on tinsel. They tend to eat lengths of stringy material which can then cause a concertina effect on the intestines. This can be very harmful and requires surgery to treat, so keeping tinsel and string out of harm's way is much safer!

What Christmas is complete without chocolate? Unfortunately many dogs, and sometimes cats, also believe this to be true! Chocolate can cause vomiting and diarrhoea and in larger doses, liver failure and can be fatal. The higher the cocoa content the more the risk, so keep those expensive dark chocolate truffles out of the way of any investigative hounds in the house! Be wary of chocolates on the tree and wrapped in presents within reach. Remember a small number of extra treats can lead to rapid weight gain which can take a long time to lose.

Dried fruit is also a risk to dogs and can cause renal failure so keep Christmas pudding, mince pies and Christmas cake away from low tables or other places your crafty hound may be able to get to.

For some of us, it can all get a bit much at these festive times. We may like our house being filled with family, friends and music but not all our pets do. For some, the bustle and noise can be very stressful. If you have a timid pet who enjoys the quiet, make sure there is somewhere peaceful that they can go to not be disturbed. They may prefer to have their food and litter tray in a hidden corner.

Most importantly, have a wonderful Christmas with your furry friends and if you have any worries or suspect your pet has eaten something they shouldn't, don't hesitate to call your vet for advice. Merry Christmas!

...and yes they did go all the way!

thetically portrayed by Cameron Love, from suicide by dragging him out of a fumefilled car and then tried to put him back again!

Much of the humour in this show came from Exley Edwards in the role of Noah "Horse" Simmons who had to suffer predictable innuendo throughout.

The brave stripping sixsome was completed by Antonie Azor in a touching portrayal of Ethan Girard, a more sensitive unemployed mill worker, and Tony Glover in a strong performance as Harold Nichols, the unpopular mill supervisor who also lost his job.

Another big plus was the performance by young Ed Dommett who played the part of Jerry's son, Nathan Lukowski, determined to help his wayward dad regain his self respect.

Full credit to talented choreographer Rachel Worseley who transformed her dad-dancers into delivering a very acceptable strip routine.

Whilst the male members of cast were dominant in this show, there were confident portrayals from Susie Gambie, Silvey Webber and Vanessa Loader as the wives who had to endure the emotional journey of seeing their husbands' despair turn to pride.

In recent years the Axminster society have won deserved accolades for their ambition in tackling some of the most successful musicals of all time with critical acclaim. This was a brave attempt to keep moving that bar ever higher. But the big question was: did they really do the full monty? Well, yes they did - but with the clever use of lighting their dignity was thankfully kept in tact.

Next year's production is South Pacific, one of the most loved musicals of all time - and another very different challenge for AMT.

Seasonal displays at flower club

■ AXMINSTER FLOWER CLUB: Members and visitors enjoyed an early Christmas treat with a demonstration of seasonal flower displays.

Jenny Chance entertained everyone with arrangements ranging from Christmas wreaths to a White Christmas finale.

The five arrangements included all festive elements of richness, colour and surprise. Jenny also gave the audience lots of tips about the care of flowers – such as carnations – enjoying a long life when lemonade rather than water was put in the vase!

Axminster Flower Club meets at the United Reformed Church on the second Friday of the month. There are demonstrations and workshops most months and it's an excellent club for learning the first steps in arranging flowers as well as developing one's skills.

■ CLUB chairman Pam Burge and Jenny Chance before the demonstration

Please ring 01460 221315

for more details or just drop in one Friday. New members are welcomed.

Memories of Westminster at lunch club

■ EAST DEVON LUNCHEON CLUB: Pat Lowther spoke about life at the Palace of Westminster at the recent meeting. After living in South Africa she returned to London and applied for job in the office dealing with MPs' allowances.

She gave a short history of the palace. Several times it had been burnt down – including being bombed in the Second World War – but the hall and St Stephen's Chapel have survived intact.

The Commons was rebuilt following Sir Winston Churchill's suggestion to have rows on each side. The Members returned in 1950.

As a former civil servant, Pat was accustomed to strict rules but found that in the Fee office the MPs are considered to be 'Honourable Gentlemen' and a rule book is non-existent.

It was all very lax – the MPs had a blank form and wrote what they wanted. But when a general election was announced all allowances were closed down.

Pat finished her talk by describing some of the events she had attended such as the State Opening of Parliament and the visits of various dignitaries.

■ HONITON ART SOCIETY: Somerset based artist, Colin Brown, made a welcome return to Honiton Art Society for their November meeting, painting a street scene in acrylics for his demonstration.

Having made a tonal sketch of the scene on a tinted gesso canvas sheet, Colin worked from a reference picture on his computer, the colours being better than those from a photograph.

Working with the canvas turned upside down, Colin believes a looser approach is achieved this way. He blocked in the basic shapes with loose brush strokes using a wide Da Vinci impasto brush, a cross between a brush and a palette knife.

Not using a palette, he applied several colours to his brush straight from the tubes, using wet and dry brush techniques; a little fabric conditioner was used to help the flow of paint when necessary.

Dark areas were painted first, using grey or bronze to knock back the bright colours; lighter shades were then introduced, the central area being the lightest.

Having blocked in the whole scene, Colin turned the canvas the right way up for more detailed work. Using a smaller brush and a ruler he painted broken black lines around some of the buildings, leaving the eye to finish the shapes, darkly outlined trees in the foreground were an important part of the painting.

Finally more highlights were painted, adding a little lemon yellow to the mix and applying thickly with the edge of the impasto brush.

Colin emphasised the importance of not over working a painting; unless the addition of more paint added impact it was best to leave well alone, but his demonstration piece would still need more work when it was dry he added.

Chairman Barrie Raby thanked Colin for an impressive demonstration with a stunning result.

The next meeting of the society will be on Monday, January 9th; when Linda Kettle will demonstrate painting a French patio scene in watercolour. It takes place at Awliscombe Village Hall, from 2pm to 4pm. Visitors £4 (new members very welcome). More information available from www.honitonartsociety.com ■ COLYTON WI: The president, Shelagh Derwent, welcomed visitor Pauline Marshall and also instructors for the day, Carol and Julia.

Members are looking forward to their Christmas Lunch in Sidmouth on December 13th and arrangements were announced regarding transport.

The Beer Quiz had been enjoyed by those members attending. We are hoping to enter the competition for a child's mobile for the Spring Council Meeting. Invitations had been accepted from Seaton WI and Musbury WI. Carol and Julia then gave instructions and demonstrations for completing fabric Christmas trees.

Packs had been prepared for each member who were soon busy sewing. They were obviously pleased with the results.

Tea was served by Shelagh Derwent and Francine Coultas.

Afterwards Carol and Julia were thanked and a presentation made to Brenda Clark, who had made all the arrangements.

Members were advised that the meeting on Tuesday, January 17th 2017 would be a party and members were asked to bring along a plate of food.

Invitations had been sent to other WIs in the group.

Next year will see the 90th birthday of Colyton WI and preparations are already under way. Please give the committee any ideas you may have.

The result of the competitions were as follows: Christmas Cracker – 1st, Joan MacDougall; 2nd, Francine Coultas; 3rd, Jean Underdown. Flower of the Month – 1st, Penny Cogan; 2nd, Jean Underdown; 3rd, Jean Hut-

OPEN DAYS AT THE MUSEUM

THURSDAY 1ST DECEMBER 2PM - 6PM AND FRIDAY 2ND DECEMBER 10AM - 6PM

▲ A DETAIL OF THE EXCAVATION OF THE ROMAN BATH HOUSE: The semi-circular bath beside the hot room still preserving its plastered floor & walls ▲ ITEMS on display from the Seaton Roman villa at Honeyditches.

ROMAN SEATON by Ted Gosling

The Romans built a substantial fort on the high ground of Bunts Knoll, and obvious spot commanding the harbor and valley. This was constructed of squared stone but unfortunately it was all removed in later times and used in buildings in Seaton. The old infants school and the cottages adjoining in Queen Street are some examples of where the stone was used. Today modern housing covers the site and no trace of the fort remains. Evidence of Roman Villas have been discovered on Honeyditohes, and others at nearby Holcombe, close to Uplyme, and another at Membury. A fairly recent archaeological excavation has confirmed that they were wooden barrack blocks near the bath-house, and these have become industrial buildings for manufacturing pottery later, after the Second Legion had moved on to Caerleon in South Wales.

It was the Romans who started mining the stone at Beer Quarries and which they exported by sea from Axmouth Harbour. Axmouth was a Roman signal called "Uxelis" and evidence of this has been found on the top of the cliffs above Axmouth. At Colyford William Stukeley, who visited the area in the 1700's spoke of stone vaults existing there. No doubt these were associated with the rest station which would have been on the main road through the village.

The Roman town of Moridunum has been supposed to be at Seaton. It may have been located on Honeyditches, or it may have been out to sea. The sea is very shallow off Seaton and the ten fathom line is a mile offshore, the only place on our coastline where it is out so far out. The coastline is receding about three feet each year and the Roman town could have been inundated by the sea. Certainly the workers in the stone quarries, together with all there ancillary trades, stables, blacksmiths, harness makers, wheelrights, etc., must have lived somewhere nearby, and it was deffinatley not in Beer, which was always just a small fishing village close to the sea. When the Romans withdrew about AD 410 the kingdom of Dumnonia still continued to exist and it was the last of the old British kindoms to survive.

LATE NIGHT SHOPPING & CHRISTMAS LIGHT SWITCH ON FRIDAY 2ND DECEMBER

SNOWMAN CELEBRATION CAKE

This adorable snowman celebration cake is almost too cute to eat! It's also completely delicious!

www.bakingmad.com

Prep Time: 40min
Cook Time: 25min

For the cake:

- 250g butter (unsalted) softened
- 250g White caster sugar
- 5 Eggs (large)
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- 15 ml Milk
- 250g Self-raising white flour
- 1tsp Baking powder

For the icing:

- 100g butter softened
- 400g icing sugar
- 1 tsp vanilla extract
- 100g dessicated coconut
- 50g white sugar paste icing
- Red food colouring
- Jelly sweets

Method:

1. Preheat the oven to 170°C (fan 150°C, gas mark 5). Grease and line 2 x 7 inch round sponge tins.
2. Add the caster sugar to the softened butter and using a wooden spoon, or an electric hand held whisk, beat the butter and sugar until it is really smooth and creamy.
3. Beat the eggs together lightly with a fork, then add a drop at a time to the butter and sugar mixture, beating really well until smooth.

4. Using a large metal spoon fold in the vanilla extract, milk, baking powder and flour, lifting the mixture in a figure of eight to scoop up the flour and fold it in.
5. Divide the mixture evenly between the two cake tins. Bake for about 20-25 minutes until the mixture is golden and just firm in the centre. Allow to cool for five minutes then remove from the tin and allow to cool completely.
6. To make the icing beat the butter and sugar together until smooth, adding a little hot water if liked to help soften it and make a soft smooth consistency.
7. To assemble using a tea plate or saucer as a guide, cut one of the sponge cakes into a smaller circle for the head. Place this against the snowman body to form the shape of a snowman.
8. Coat the whole cake with butter cream. Sprinkle with coconut.
9. Mix a little red colouring into the sugar paste. Roll out most of it to make the scarf and then make a mouth with the rest. Use jelly sweets to make the eyes, nose and buttons.

COUNTRY Farm Butchers is a small family run butchers situated in the town of Ottery St Mary. Surrounded by a large and very proud farming community, Steve Bealey has owned the shop for the past seventeen years and with thirty five years experience in the meat trade, puts his success down to traditional values and first class service. Steve and Head Chef Matthew have for a number of years now worked very closely together to achieve consistently high standards and the finest quality meat possible.

Beef, which is mainly South Devon's, is hung for a minimum of twenty one days to achieve full flavour and tenderness. The end result is perfect steaks and roasts every day of the week. The highest quality Dorset X Charollais lambs, fed on natural grassland, come from Cotley farm just a mile from the pub. These appear on the menu in the form of racks and chumps while Pork is sourced from the Butterford estate at nearby Talaton. Game birds and venison arrive from local shoots so discerning meat eaters are extremely well catered for.

Country Farm also sells local free range chicken and ducks along with home-made sausages, burgers and free range eggs together with locally made pies and pasties.

TICKETY BOO

TAKING OTTERY BY STORM

SINCE opening in August, Tickety-Boo has been a real hit with local people. The play kingdom is popular with families, providing creative play for children who love the castle, tree-house and sweetshop. The coffee shop is doing a roaring trade with its home-cooked food and delicious cakes, baked on the premises.

The business has a commitment to sourcing from local suppliers. Coffee comes from the Coffee Factory in Axminster, meat from local producers and ice cream from Otter Valley Dairy. The coffee shop also sells a variety of soft drinks and chutneys from Ottery's Fine Country Lifestyle.

Two pop-up restaurants, Tickety-Thai and Tickety-Taco were a great success. The next one is taking place in January, and will be themed around an Italian menu. The dishes are devised by Tickety-Boo's talented head chef, Dave Goldthorpe, who has recently been joined by Tristan Bridgman.

Together with Dave, Front of House Manager Zoe Blackmore has worked creatively to form ever closer ties with the local community. Tickety-Boo ran a successful writing competition at Ottery St Mary Primary School, held colouring competitions and made a commitment to supporting Exeter Leukaemia Fund (ELF) as the charity of the year. Original art from students at The Kings School is displayed on the walls, and is available for customers to buy. Items from local shops are also on display and can be bought in the coffee shop.

In response to the popularity of the new business, owner Stuart Phillips is investing even more. 2017 will see an expansion into the rear of the building, with a pirate ship, additional soft play, more seating, as well as rear access to make it easier for parents with buggies and wheelchair users to enjoy the facilities.

Tickety-Boo has been an amazing success story, bringing something rather special to Ottery St Mary.

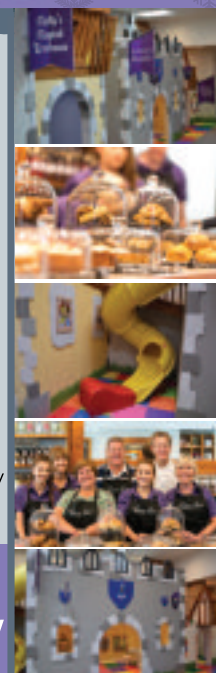

Tickety-Boo

Enjoy the magic of Tickety-Boo every day; homecooked food, delicious cakes and the best coffee in town. Our Play Kingdom for children up to age 11 is like no other - they'll want to return time and again.

Open Christmas Eve 7:30am to 4pm. Shut Christmas Day and Boxing Day. Open on New Year's Day 9am to 5pm.

We wish everyone a truly wonderful Christmas! Thanks to all our customers for making Tickety-Boo such a fantastic success. Visit us in Mill Street, Ottery St Mary soon and discover the magic for yourself.

Honiton Golf Club

With a strong focus on integration, Honiton Golf Club offers a friendly atmosphere enabling new friendships to quickly build and establish HONITON Golf Club has been continuously developing over the past 120 years and can be best summarised as a traditional club with strong established ties with its community. Established in 1896, the beautiful mature parkland course is relatively flat providing easy walking but can still be deceptively challenging for the more ambitious player.

The club provides a diverse range of both golf and social activities focusing on fun, flexibility and family. Seasonal and themed dining events, discos and live music evenings together with fun golf days are interspersed with the more serious golf competitions and club matches.

After golf you can relax in the clubhouse which offers both visitors and members bar and catering facilities throughout the day. We also have limited availability for private parties, Parties, Wakes, Anniversaries, Christmas Parties and the like, our Catering Manager John Golder will be happy to put a menu together to suit most budgets. Our restaurant can comfortably sit up to 80 diners. There is also an optional extra of a dance floor.

The golf course is well maintained by a team of professionals, providing a balanced challenge for both the established golfer, but more importantly, is also ideal for a beginner.

When golf is not going well, you can still enjoy a lovely flat walk surrounded by beautiful scenery.

A state of the art indoor practice facility means you can also try and improve your game, using the latest technology and remain dry at all times!

Blessed with two qualified golfing professionals at the club, golfing advice and encouragement is always available.

Fancy golf? Come and try it for yourself!

Axcess Electric Bikes

Cycling to work is practical for many

SALES statistics for electric bikes in the Netherlands show that the value of electric bikes sold in 2015 was greater than the total sales value for standard bikes. The Dutch have certainly got the idea that for a short journey an electric bike is the way to go.

In the UK, progress is much slower and, of course, we have hills and weather. But the growing band of e-bike owners who regularly cycle to work on their electric bikes is growing steadily, and they cannot understand why anyone who has less than 5 miles to travel to work would go by car. It takes less than 30 minutes.

Commuters that live 15 or 20 miles from work often buy an extra battery charger and charge the battery at work so they are sure to have plenty of power for that final hill home.

There are financial incentives for riding to work over and above the saving on fuel and parking fees. Government backed Cycle Schemes mean that by purchasing a bike to travel to work you save on Tax and National Insurance on the purchase value – often a saving up to 30% of the value.

Do not worry if your employer is not in one of the big schemes. A new scheme under the Green-CommutesInitiative.UK means that your employer does not even have to pay for the bike. Finance is supplied through the scheme - subject to status.

NEW Eriscay & Camargue

Setting the standard for elegance and ride quality

- 700C wheels for a smoother ride
- 13 Ah battery in the frame for long tours and better balanced bike
- Redesigned motor and rider computer. Puts you in control
- Throttle works to 15mph when pedals turning for an easy ride

SANTA STRAWBERRIES

These little Santas are almost too cute to eat!...

www.leannebakes.com

Ingredients:

- 1 dozen strawberries
- 1 cup whipped cream
- A handful of chocolate sprinkles

Method:

1. Using a pairing knife, slice the leafy end off each strawberry so they stand up evenly. Then slice the tip off to make a little hat.
2. Using a spoon or a large icing tip, place a large dollop (about 1-2 tsp) of whipped cream on top of the strawberry base. Plop the little hat on top. Add another small dollop of whipped cream to the tip of the hat to make a mock pom-pom.
3. Place two chocolate sprinkles in the Santas "face" for the eyes. Using a toothpick, place two very small splashes of whipped cream down the front of the strawberry for buttons.
4. You're done! It's that easy. If you don't eat them right away, store them in the fridge to keep them cold. Santa doesn't do well with heat.

FROZEN BANANA PENGUIN SNACK

www.goodiy.blogspot.co.uk

IF you don't have an idea for a healthy and fun snack for this time of the year, here is a nice tutorial on how to make a frozen banana penguin snack. It will be great for the kids after a big lunch. Here is a list of necessary.

Ingredients:

- A couple of bananas
- Chocolate chips
- A pack of M&M's
- Edible sugar eyes (optional)

Method:

The recipe is quite easy, but the arrangement is the one that give it its fun and flavor. Start by microwaving the bowl of chips for 30 seconds. Take them out the oven and stir the chips. Put back in for another 30 seconds. Next, cut the bananas in half. Take one bit and dip it in chocolate in order to make the top side of the penguin. Put in some M&M's to mimic the eyes and beak. Take a teaspoon and pour some chocolate on the bottom side of the penguin. Cut in half a couple of M&M's and place as feet. Put on a tin foil and stick in the freezer for 20 to 30 minutes. Take out and enjoy!

Colcombe Castle

THE 500-year-old Colcombe Castle is a paradise for those seeking the unspoilt, traditional pleasures of a classic English pub – especially on Friday and Saturday nights when The Colcombe Scufflers tune up and play.

Anyone can join in with the Scufflers, the weekends are open-mike nights when old friends and strangers are both welcome to break into song. You can bring your own guitar, or simply borrow one of those available at the pub.

Better still, have a go on the old-style skiffle instruments – the tea chest bass or washboard – as the whole pub launches into a singalong.

It's not just the regular beers – Otter Amber, Dartmoor Legend and Dartmoor Jail – that won The Colcombe Castle whatpub.com's vote as 'friendly and welcoming', it's the old-style, no-fuss of it.

And there's a great carvery here every Sunday. It's a real find for those who want their pubs to be pubs.

Gordon & Rumsby

ANOTHER year is coming to an end and I am another older and greyer! What a year it has been!

Following last year's Autumn Statement, we had a very busy start to the year with the race to beat the deadline for the additional 3% stamp duty on second/investment homes. Although, as a rule we do not see very many second home owners/investment buyers, they all came out of the woodwork, cashing in pensions and such as a result of the financial incentive! So, we did see a bit of a rush in the first quarter. After that, it slowed a little but the early year rush did generate some momentum which kept going until July – despite the Brexit vote. Sadly, we then saw a greater than average rate of fall throughs, mainly where there was an investment buyer at the bottom of the chain. Where there were first time buyers at the bottom of the chain, they held and completed successfully. Autumn this year has picked up with November especially having been quite busy. One of our biggest problems going into the new year will be the lack of housing stock in the lower end (anything from £125,000 to £250,000). The fantastic mortgage offers available have encouraged more younger buyers to come back to the market, which is the best news of the year. We have even seen some first time buyers again. We need to encourage this activity and there is no reason to think that it will reduce in the coming months. However, to be able to sell to them, we need property. Please do give us a call if you are considering selling!

The Lettings side of the business has started to increase too. We are fully up and running now offering Let only and Fully Managed services. The demand in Colyton and surrounding villages is not huge but neither is the supply, so the two tend to balance each other quite well.

Our website has recently been redesigned and I am very pleased with the result. It has been brought up to date somewhat with a more modern feel and is intelligent enough to adapt to all the different devices available these days. If you haven't seen it yet, please take a look.

Thanks once again for all the lovely testimonials our customers have written about us and for those who are recommending our services to others. We will continue to work hard for our clients and to provide a most unusual estate agency service, because that's just who we are! Finally, I would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

THE greedy march of chain pubs with their soulless interiors, cheap beer, loud customers and microwave meals has done more to ruin the old English inn than Hitler's Luftwaffe achieved, but thankfully a few proper old taverns still exist – and The Kingfisher in Colyton is among the best of them.

The visitor looking for a unspoilt, traditional Devon pub where the hospitality is hearty need look no further than this 16th Century inn, easily found in the centre of the town. It's exactly like an old pub should be – traditional roasts on Sundays, meat raffles in the bar every Saturday, CAMRA-rated honest local ales, a beautiful beer garden and a rare place where you can still play skittles, darts and crib.

The Kingfisher is also the friendly home to great British pub grub – fish and chips that are said to be the best in the area, steak and kidney pie, chicken and leek pie, whitebait, stuffed mushrooms, baked salmon, sirloin steak, scampi, egg and chips and raspberry and apple pie are among the choices that are all freshly-homemade and come in large portions.

It is a popular spot with walkers and rave reviews of the welcome at The Kingfisher have come from as far as California. Typical is the thumbs-up from a recent visitor from Birmingham, who wrote: 'It's been a long time since we enjoyed a simple, well-cooked pub meal and this pub does the job. We had scampi, chips, peas and salad and ham, egg, chips and peas and our meals were thoroughly enjoyable. The food was well presented – no attempts to be a gastropub or anything fancy, just good, wholesome pub grub. We cleared our plates and we just wish that this pub was our local! We will definitely be back.'

A great find, a little Devon treasure and highly recommended by all its patrons.

MELTED SNOWMAN BISCUITS

www.goodtoknow.co.uk

THE kids are going to love making these easy melted snowman biscuits. This simple recipe makes melted snowmen using Rich Tea biscuits, a handful of white marshmallows and a little icing. Ready in just 10 mins, these biscuits would make the perfect treat for kids' Christmas parties or bake sales. This recipe makes 6 biscuits but you can easily double or even triple the recipe and make a lot more. To create the face, we use an edible black pen, which you can buy online or from specialist baking shops, but you could use black writing icing instead, which you can find in most supermarkets. These biscuits are best made on the day you eat them, but trust us - they won't last longer!

Prep Time: 10min

Makes: 6

Ingredients:

- 6 tbsp icing sugar
- 6 Rich Tea biscuits (or make your own)
- Edible black pen, or black writing icing
- 6 medium-sized white marshmallows
- Writing icing, for the faces and buttons

Method:

1. Make the icing by mixing the icing sugar with 2tbsp water in a bowl - if the mixture looks too thick, add more water. If it is too thin, add more icing sugar.

2. Lay 6 Rich Tea biscuits on baking paper. Spoon the icing onto each biscuit, letting it ooze over the edges of the biscuit.
3. Using an edible black pen, draw faces onto the marshmallows. Use orange writing icing to create the carrot nose.
4. Place the marshmallows on top of each biscuit.
5. Draw stick arms onto the icing with the edible pen. Use yellow writing icing to create the buttons.
6. Leave to set or serve straight away for a melting effect.

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL OUR CUSTOMERS

The Gerrard Arms

Enjoy a friendly, warm atmosphere, at The Gerrard Arms

THE Gerrard Arms is a small, friendly pub in the centre of the town of Colyton. It dates back to 1506 and is one of the oldest coaching inns in town, remaining largely unchanged until 1914 when the building caught fire and the original thatched roof was lost. Later, the stables were sold off, and after several refits the pub settled into its current configuration, at the time as a Charrington House.

Once visited by none other than Lawrence of Arabia (so folklore has it), the Gerrard Arms now retains the traditional feel of a pleasant country pub, whilst offering a selection of beverages only possible in a Freehouse.

Today Dave and Kaz welcome you to their free-house to enjoy a friendly, warm atmosphere, local real ales, and a natter with the locals.

Why not come and see our newly renovated function room/skittle alley, which underwent an extensive refurbishment over the summer and is now available to hire for special occasions, parties and events?

REINDEER COOKIES

www.madeformums.com

Ingredients:

- 350g plain flour
- 2 tsp ground ginger
- 1 tsp cinnamon
- ½ tsp mixed spice
- ¼ tsp salt
- 1 tsp bicarbonate of soda
- ½ tsp baking powder
- 175g butter
- 150g light brown sugar
- 4tbsp golden syrup

For the decoration:

- Curly Wurly chocolate bars
- Glacé cherries
- M&M's
- Black writing icing pens

Method:

1. Preheat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan). Measure the flour, spices, salt, bicarbonate of soda and baking powder into a bowl.

2. Melt the butter, sugar and syrup in a pan. Pour into the dry ingredients and mix. Lightly knead together to make a dough.

3. Form the dough into 10 balls. Pinch out one end of the balls to form a point, then flatten with your hand. Place on a baking sheet and bake for 12 to 15 minutes until the cookies are lightly golden but still slightly soft.

4. Using a skewer, make a slit on either side of the cookie heads for the antlers to slot in then leave to cool for a few minutes. Decorate each cookie with lengths of Curly Wurly for the antlers and halved glacé cherries for the nose. Take two M&M's of the same colour for the eyes and dot with black icing for the pupils.

Val Davis Traditional Acupuncture

Acupuncture can improve and maintain health and energy and enhance a sense of well-being

ACCORDING to traditional Chinese philosophy, our health is dependent on the body's motivating energy (qi) moving in a smooth and balanced way through a series of channels beneath the skin.

Acupuncture can affect the quality of qi, your body's vital energy, by the insertion of very fine needles into specific points along these channels. This stimulates the body's healing response and restores natural balance. Treatment is aimed at the root cause of your condition as well as your main symptoms. This approach helps with resolving your problem and enhancing your feeling of well-being. You may notice other niggling problems resolve as your main health complaint improves.

The type of conditions that I mostly see in my clinics include the following: arthritis, back pain and sciatica, poor circulation, low energy levels, hormonal/menopausal symptoms, pregnancy management, fertility problems, weight management, and addictions such as smoking. However, you don't have to be ill in the conventional sense to benefit from acupuncture, sometimes people come to see me because they are feeling low, unwell in themselves, or maybe not sleeping as well as they would like to.

Professional Acupuncturists spend at least 3 years training at degree level to become an Acupuncturist. We are then entitled to join the British Acupuncture Council and to use the letters Lic.Ac., B.Ac.C after our names. We also have public liability and professional indemnity insurance. Many of us have also studied at post-graduate level and are constantly updating our skills and experience.

So, why not give me a ring and see if I can help.

Bowen Therapy & Energy Healing

WHY ARE YOU NOT HEALING?

I SEE many people these days with chronic pain patterns and often with a disillusioned sense of trying everything along the medical route and protocols.

So this begs the question of Why is it that we are not healing?

This is a big question with many answers but from an alternative point of view quite simply put the body we live in today was not designed for how the world has become and there are some significant ways in which we deeply struggle to meet all of its demands on a daily basis.

Just because we see all around us so many common illnesses or conditions like, depression, anxiety, sleeping difficulties, auto immune diseases, hormonal imbalance, weight problems, diabetes, Asthma, Irritable bowel, addictions, chronic muscular tension, back pain does not mean that this is the norm, what it indicates is that we have become seriously out of balance in relationship to ourselves and therefore to the world and others.

We have entered an age now where we must look at how it is that we manage our energies. The anatomy of our energy system is as detailed, complex and profound as our physical anatomy and can no longer be denied but instead considered and embraced as equally important as the physical examination when assessing why it is we are not healing and what it is we need to do.

Bowen therapy and Energy Healing address and include the Physical and Energy body together.

Lindy Parry Podiatrist / Chiropodist

I HOLD my private chiropody clinic at Townsend House Surgery in Seaton.

I offer a range of treatments from a simple nail cut to nail surgery, and each treatment plan is priced accordingly.

The nail cutting only service is a shorter appointment and is ideal for those that don't have any other foot care needs. Others like to alternate nail cuts with chiropody treatments as it best suits their requirements. I always aim to work with the patient to find the best treatment plan to suit each individual. Patients feet are then monitored during treatment so that changes can be made should the need arise.

Diabetic patients who attend for chiropody will also have a diabetic foot assessment carried out during their first treatment, and will then be monitored and re-assessed as necessary.

My chiropody clinics are available to anybody seeking help with their feet and Townsend House and I look forward to welcoming you. Bookings can be made by calling 01297 22956.

Eden Garden Fencing & Landscaping

AT EDEN Garden Fencing and Landscaping based in Seaton, Devon we have been building and installing quality Fencing, Gates and Decking, along with Landscaping, for some 15 years. This makes finding a Fencing Contractor simple by providing for all clients' requirements, large and small locally. The timber products side of Landscapers, Eden Garden Developments, offers a friendly, professional, integrated service and the Seaton, Devon base covers a 30 mile radius.

A timely example, given the present gusty conditions, is Garden Fencing, where this can be replaced or repaired, depending upon condition and the budget available. This can be either Close Board, Panel (with or without Trellis), Post and Rail or Picket Fencing. Eden Garden Fencing and Landscaping also supply and fit Gates (see insets). Whilst we take pride in installing robust and durable fencing products, "cost leadership" is still at the forefront of the business, whilst keeping quality and the principles of design foremost. Much of the work can be done during Autumn and Winter when the ground is less compacted and this time is also perfect for renovating the garden generally. So by Spring many garden improvements can be ready to be enjoyed.

There is now a dedicated Timber Products website, www.edengardenfencing.co.uk, giving examples of the range and quality of workmanship. Additionally, information can be obtained by calling 01297 23596 (mobile 07977 415446) or visiting the general web pages at www.a1-environmental.com

Greenshutters Nurseries & Garden Centre

GREENSHUTTERS Nurseries & Garden Centre is a family run business nestled in the heart of the Somerset countryside. It is open 7 days a week and stocks an extensive range of plants. The Garden Centre has completely changed in the last few years with the layout being completely re-designed. There are new entrances from the road and into the Plant Area and the old-fashioned wooden greenhouse has been restored to its former glory with its bright, white painted wood. Most of the plants are now on tables so you don't have to bend down to look at them and the layout has been designed to make the walk around the plant area enjoyable.

This year Greenshutters Garden Centre is stocking a much larger range of herbaceous perennials and roses, including new and unusual varieties. There is also a new range of quality garden benches dotted among the plants, so you are welcome to wander around the garden centre and take a rest as you go. You can even sit and enjoy the view over Taunton Vale and the Quantocks.

The business also incorporates EVER-GREENHEDGING.co.uk, one of the largest stockists of evergreen hedging plants in the country. Thousands of plants are grown every year on the nursery from small to large, mature hedging plants; the best sellers being Laurel, Leylandii, Photinia 'Red Robin' and Portugal Laurel. These are delivered locally or nationwide or can be collected from Greenshutters Nurseries and Garden Centre.

Greenshutters is run by Dr Roger Eavis, who bought the nursery in 1998 and the business has grown steadily every year since then. "We pride ourselves on good customer service and advice, good quality plants and I hope we have created a pleasant place to wander and enjoy the plants," says Roger. "We have a great team of staff who are always willing to help and give advice". Greenshutters Nurseries and Garden Centre is well worth a visit.

CHRISTMAS TREE TIPS

By Hannah Stephenson, Press Association

IF you've dusted off your tree stand, got your baubles out and are surrounded by sparkling tinsel, it must be almost time to put the Christmas tree up.

Garden centres generally start stocking trees towards the end of November, while The British Christmas Tree Growers Association (BCTGA) recommends getting them from December 1 onwards.

It seems the middle of the festive season, the third Sunday after Advent (December 11) is a good compromise. The fresher the tree, the more likely it is to last through the festive season without dropping its needles or looking a little tired.

While the most common type of tree is still the Nordmann fir - which accounts for 80% of trees sold - there are some that might better suit your available space and budget.

The four main types of tree on offer this year are Nordman fir, Fraser fir, Noble fir and Norway spruce, each of which has its own characteristics.

Nordmann fir (Abies nordmanniana): The most popular tree, it won't drop its needles for the duration of the festive season and people love it because of its dense branches, uniform shape and good variety of sizes. Expect to pay from about £20 upwards, depending on size.

Fraser fir (Abies fraseri): This is ideal for those with limited space, who want a real Christmas tree.

It's a slim tree, so you're less likely to brush past it and knock off decorations in a smaller room, but it also has a great shape and fresh citrus scent, and its dark olive-green needles don't drop. It's likely to be more expensive than the Nordmann, and there won't be as many available as it's a more difficult tree to grow commercially.

Noble fir (Abies procera): Consumers buy this tree primarily for its blue-hued needle colour and rich fragrance. It's non-drop, but is unlikely to be as uniformly shaped as the Nordmann. This tree is ideal for individuals who don't conform to conventional shapes and sizes of tree.

Norway spruce (Picea abies): This is the traditionalist's tree. It may shed its needles, but what it loses in longevity it gains in scent. It's a good tree if you're putting it up last minute, or at least closer to Christmas, because it won't last as long as the more expensive non-drop trees.

Alternatives: There are twiggy alternatives - if you haven't space, decorate containerised olive or pyramid-trained bay trees or standard holly bushes and put them outside your front door or on a balcony, anywhere outside where you get a good view of them.

Ideally, buy from a local grower. Visit the British Christmas Tree Growers Association website (www.bctga.co.uk) to check out members locally.

Another fabulous wurlitzer show

Chris Powell

FAST-MOVING, fun and, in the words of the audience, "a fabulous show". The exuberant Chris Powell, one of the UK's top organists, received a very warm welcome at Beer on Saturday, November 25th. It was a great pleasure to listen to Chris's lively programme of popular music played on the oldest Wurlitzer in the UK which is sounding better than ever, and the large audience marvelled at his energetic keyboard dexterity. He played many Christmas classics, encouraging the audience to sing along with him, as well as well-loved show tunes and other favourites.

Chris is very much in demand in the UK, Europe and the USA, and plays at many concerts in New Zealand and Australia. In fact Chris, who was born in 1971, spent the first few years of his life in New Zealand as his parents emigrated there. Music has been Chris's life – as a chorister, pianist and then an electronic keyboard player. At 18 he played at the Tower Ballroom and continued to do so for five years.

This superb show concluded the 2016 programme, so now make a date in your 2017 diary for Saturday, March 11th when Elizabeth Harrison will be playing music for everyone at Congregational Church, Fore Street, Beer, EX12 3JQ. Shows start at 2.00pm, admission is £7.00 on the door, children free, and includes interval refreshments. For further information please phone 01297 24892 or visit www.beerwurlitzer.org.uk.

Good Evans!

Simon Evans talks the lesser-considered side of economics

HOST of BBC Radio 4's Goes to Market and star of BBC1's Live at the Apollo, Simon Evans has been immersing himself in economics for the last couple of years, like a pig immersing itself in organic cleansing elements.

He has unpicked why the French don't want to own their own home (sex, obvs), why mass spectrometers reveal Americans to literally be made of corn, and why Alco-Synth – the effects of alcohol but with an effective antidote – is not likely to be appearing at a wine bar near you in the near future, despite having been invented years ago. As usual the whole thing deteriorates swiftly into a heartfelt rant about his children but these are at least the lofty aspirations he starts with this time.

Simon Evans brings his latest show to the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Saturday, December 3rd at 8pm. Tickets are £14, available online at www.marinetheatre.com or by calling 01297 442138.

Feel the Flower Power grooves, man!

THE BEEHIVE Xmas Bash is always very popular, with great home cooked food, this year with a 70s theme and the fabulous, funky, Flower Power band.

Folk are invited to "rock up and frock up, or come suited and booted, to celebrate Christmas in style!"

The evening will begin by gathering in the bar for a welcoming glass of Fizz accompanied by a delicious selection of 70s style nibbles.

Then after meeting your friends or making new ones, you will be escorted to your table in the Joanna Leach auditorium for a super home cooked three course supper.

The Flower Power Band will strike up with their live show and once supper has been devoured, everyone is guaranteed to get up and get in the groove, dancing to all of the best hits from the 60s, 70s and beyond.

A great night is in store! Tickets £25 must be ordered in advance with the menu choice on the Box office 01404384050 or online at www.beehivehoniton.co.uk

Buffalo Summer to rock the Beehive

HAILING from South Wales, Buffalo Summer are an "effortlessly up beat; groove-laden; sing along rock n roll band", and they'll be playing live at the Beehive, Honiton, this Friday, December 2nd.

Freshly formed a couple of years ago, a lot has happened since the band's inception. With an insatiable appetite and desire to make their mark, the band released their self titled album to critical acclaim in the national music press.

Playing bluesy, southern, soulful tinged rock with a modern twist, Classic Rock Magazine had this to say: –

"A little Zeppelin here, a touch of Skynyrd there and a big helping of Free pretty much though out... What's really impressive here is the hunger and conviction of the delivery"

"Guitarist Jonny, vocalist Andrew, drummer Gareth and bassist Darren possess an uber-cool, ultra rare nowadays, stage presence and a musical tightness and togetherness to die for." (Uber Rock Live Review)

It's why they have pulled some high-profile support slots including Duff McKagan, Ugly Kid Joe, and Skid Row, with much more to come.

MUSICALLY, November got off to a great start on Saturday 5th with a visit from virtuoso guitarist, Clive Carroll. During the afternoon, Clive held an Acoustic guitar workshop which was really appreciated by 15 budding guitarists. Much of this session concentrated on ways of improving their 'finger style' technique. This was followed by an evening concert which showed just why Clive is considered as one of the most versatile and respected guitarists of this generation. His performance was entertaining, eclectic and enthralling in equal measure.

On Saturday 19th we welcomed the traditional Welsh band Calan for their first visit. This was a terrific show featuring great music, much fun, and step dancing from a champion dancer. The five piece band played fiddles, whistles, guitar and bagpipes and had the large audience enchanted and wanting me to get them back soon.

The month ended with another first performance at The David Hall by the long-established Scottish band, Blazin' Fiddles. This gig was sold out well in advance and turned out to be a totally memorable event. Formed 17 years ago, the band features four fiddles, guitar and keyboards, who together produce a totally unique sound. The performance included not only full band slots but also many solo sets which showed off the individual style of each player. The musicians hail from locations across Scotland including The Shetlands, Isle of Skye, The Orkneys and Inverness. This is a fantastic band, and are on my list for a return in 2018.

December gets off to a rip-roaring start on Saturday 3rd with yet another group visiting us for the first time when we welcome the eight-piece band, Police Dog Hogan. This is the ultimate 'fun band' performing live shows that are exuberant, accomplished, stirring and funny, mixing country-fried heartbreakers, belting anthems and foot-stomping sing-alongs. The line-up features guitar, accordion, banjo, mandolin, fiddle and trumpet and great vocals. I really love this band and clearly many others feel the same as at the time of going to print there are just a handful of tickets left. If you can get a ticket then do so, as I know you will not be disappointed.

On Friday 9th and Saturday 10th we get into true Christmas spirit with the return of the ever-popular St Agnes Fountain, who are affectionately known to us as "The Aggies". This four-piece band consists of Chris While, Julie Matthews, Fairport's Chris Leslie and David Hughes, who come together for their Christmas tour each December and have been visiting us since 2005. Both performances at The David Hall have already sold out, which speaks volumes about their appeal and totally unique take on music associated with Christmas. As we say: "Christmas starts with The Aggies". A mixture of song, humour and spoken word is guaranteed.

On Saturday, December 17th we will once again welcome Belshazzar's Feast for their Christmas-themed show. This duo consists of Paul Sartin (of Bellowhead and Faustas fame) and Paul Hutchinson (of Hoover The Dog) who wow audiences across the UK with their eccentric mix of tunes and between-songs chats that always send audiences home with a smile on their faces! This show will mix traditional Folk with a touch of Classical, Jazz, Pop, and a bit of Music Hall, all with a seasonal twist. This event is selling well although at present, some tickets are still available. A truly wonderful gig to have just days before Christmas.

Finally, on Saturday, December 31st The David Hall will hold its annual New Year's Eve Ceilidh, featuring local band Jigs for Gigs with caller Simon Maplesden. Come along and help us bring in 2017 in style! Tickets are £15, including buffet, and must be booked by Thursday, December 29th.

On behalf of everyone at The David Hall may I take this opportunity to wish each and every one of you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. A massive "Thank You" for your support and next time, I will tell about the new 2017 programme.

Pete Wheeler, Petherton Arts Trust

Further events at The David Hall in December

On Friday 2nd, Petherton Picture Show presents The Man Who Knew Infinity (12) starring Dev Patel, Jeremy Irons, Malcolm Sinclair, Stephen Fry, Devika Bhise and Toby Jones, and on Friday 16th, Love and Friendship (U) with Kate Beckinsale, Chloe Sevigny, Xavier Samuel, Stephen Fry, Jemma Redgrave and Tom Bennett. Acoustic Night is on Sunday 18th, at 7.30pm. All performers have the opportunity to deliver for 10-15 minutes with full PA and lighting system. If you wish to perform, please email folk@chriswatts.org to secure a place.

Dreaming of a jazzy Christmas

AN IMPRESSIVE array of top UK talent pays tribute to the great Benny Goodman at Ilminster Arts Centre on Friday, December 16th. Known as 'the King of Swing', Goodman is remembered in the popular imagination for his big band hits, but this tribute evening focuses on his small groups which featured Goodman on clarinet, Lionel Hampton on vibraphone, Charlie Christian on guitar and Teddy Wilson on piano. For this heartwarming trip down musical memory lane, Goodman's small group will be recreated by Julian Marc Stringle, Roger Beaujolais, Dominic Ashworth with the Craig Milverton Trio.

Julian Stringle is widely regarded as the UK's top clarinet player, having won the UK Jazz Award for clarinet three times. Like Goodman himself, Stringle started playing clarinet from a young age, and made his TV debut with Acker Bilk when he was just 14, and has since played with many top bands, from John Dankworth to The Spice Girls. Roger Beaujolais started playing vibraphone at 24, and his first band was the Chevalier Brothers with Ray Gelato with whom he played in over 15 countries on 3 continents as well as the major jazz festivals in Europe. Dominic Ashworth is a member of Digby Fairweather's Half Dozen and Julian Marc Stringle's Dream Band. Craig Milverton has a remarkable ability to mimic the styles of all the great jazz pianists. On this occasion he will 'be' Teddy Wilson, and he will be supported by the rest of his trio, featuring Al Swainger on bass and Nick Milward on drums.

The concert promises to be a wonderful 'curtain raiser' to the festive season - to make a real evening of it, the Arts Centre offers a popular pre-show supper for an additional £13 (these are limited and must be booked in advance). To book tickets and suppers please ring the Box Office on 01460 54973.

From Darkness to Light Seaton Choral Society's Christmas concert

JUST as painting uses light and shade to bring life to a subject, so does music – and perhaps no subject compares with the Nativity for inviting artists and musicians to exploit the miraculous dark to light transition from B.C. to A.D. – hence the title 'From Darkness to Light'.

Some of Schubert's most engaging music will open Seaton Choral Society's Christmas Concert on Sunday, December 11th. This early work, his Mass in G, was written in less than a week when the composer was nineteen; his youthful high spirits and genius for melodic and harmonic invention allow him to slip easily from shade to sunlight; in some sections, such as the Gloria, he employs strong contrasts to great effect.

A movement from C.P.E. Bach's Flute Concerto in G, played by young all-round musician Sophie Brewer, will follow the Schubert, leading us to the group of Negro Spirituals from 'A Child of our Time' by Michael Tippett. The inspiration for Tippett's oratorio was truly dark - the assassination in 1938 of a German diplomat by a young Jewish refugee, and the Nazi government's reaction in the form of a violent pogrom against its Jewish population – called Kristallnacht. The spirituals, placed at intervals throughout the oratorio, are used in a similar way to the chorales in the great Bach oratorios. They represent the experiences of oppressed people generally, and carry a message of understanding and reconciliation.

In Vaughan Williams's Fantasia on Christmas Carols, the beautiful plainsong tune 'The Truth sent from Above' sung by a solo baritone voice, opens out into a joyous movement for chorus and orchestra in which are woven some of our best-loved Christmas carols. The changes of rhythm from one carol to another create an irresistible momentum, ending in a high-spirited competition between a faster tune and a slower one. The concert will end with more carols.

A line-up of fine voices will undertake the solo contributions: Chloë Stratta, soprano, who is making waves in opera, oratorio and recitals both in London and abroad; Rosamond Thomas, a beautifully warm-voiced alto, currently studying at the Royal Academy of Music; tenor Tony Yates, who has sung with the BBC Northern Singers, Canterbury Cathedral Choir, and as a counter-tenor in Chichester Cathedral; and Simon Gallear, who sings with many London-based groups including The Gabrielli Consort, Tenebrae, Ensemble Plus Ultra, and Ex Cathedra. Solo engagements have included Bach's St. Matthew Passion, St. John Passion and B Minor Mass, Fauré's Requiem, Rossini's Petite Messe Solonelle, and Finzi's In Terra Pax. As a recitalist, he has recently performed Let Us Garlands Bring by Finzi, and Schubert's Die Schöne Müllerin.

The concert begins at 4.00pm, with doors opening at 3.30. Tickets are £10, (under eighteens free) from The Gateway Box Office, Tel: 01297 625699

INTRODUCING OUR NEW SHOWBIZ COLUMN

It's a tough job but someone's got to do it!

RIGHT from the start, I must explain that I have a bit of an addiction to theatre.

It's an expensive affliction that I have nurtured over the last 30 years, which has recently become a big part of my working life, as well as just my hobby.

I've been involved in amateur theatre in the south west for many years (you might have seen me attempting some epic portrayals with very suspect wigs, dodgy dancing and downright wooden acting) and was very fortunate two years ago to stumble on a career as a theatre critic.

I currently share my time between our Lyme Regis and London offices and there-

 It wasn't all about the highbrow plays this week and once again I was struck with how I'm quite often more enamored by local amateur shows, than by the big West End presentations when I had a fabulous evening watching a dance show at Thomas Hardy School in Dorchester. There was an absolute feast of talent on display and I was hugely impressed by the professionalism of the young performers (you can read my review at viewnews.co.uk).

I also popped down to Exmouth and was bowled over by the Musical Theatre Company's production of Evita. I had two of my best friends in the cast and as I was sitting in the front row, they had threatened to throw something at me if they saw me having a kip. They needn't have worried, however, as the show zipped along and was really well done.

There was also another big local show last week, when Axminster Musical Theatre presented The Full Monty. Due to my schedule I had to leave the review to the boss and I have to say, I'm not altogether disappointed I couldn't make it. Having performed with many of the cast, I feel I know them as intimately as I require and I found the idea of seeing some of them with their appendages jangling about for everyone to see, a bit disconcerting. I hear however, that it was a 'rousing' success.

Next week, I'm off to see Sideshow at Southwark Playhouse for the fourth time (it's a bit of a favourite), my first Christmas Show, a circus as part of the Southbank Winter festival and Buried Child which stars the acclaimed actor Ed Harris. I'm also attending the starry launch of the What's on Stage Awards and an ice skating event at Somerset House, at six o'clock in the morning (I expect there might some daytime sleeping needed again afterwards).

Locally I'll be heading to see Colyton Theatre Group's Cinderella with one of my London Theatre Critic friends, West End Wilma before performing and taking part in the epic Great Lyme Regis Christmas Pudding Race, which is always a real treat. I'm also returning to my previous job as a fitness instructor to lead the warm up and after seriously losing my fitness, I'm hoping they are going to have an iron lung on standby!

You can read all of my reviews and interviews on our websites londonnews.co.uk and viewnews.co.uk or you can follow me on Twitter for regular updates @NickySweetland fore, I'm able to enjoy the best of both worlds. While by the sea I cover the local theatre scene and I'm just about to dust off my character shoes for a role in a local pantomime (involving plenty of thigh slapping and innuendo, with a bit of luck).

When the sedate life in the provinces becomes just a bit too slow however, I head off to the big city to immerse myself in the bright lights and excitement of theatre land, where I have the truly terrible task of watching all of the big West End shows, and interviewing the stars (it's such a trial, but someone has to do it!). It can be extremely glamorous, but also involves ridiculously long hours and requires you to gain an innate knowledge of how to charm your way into virtually anything.

I also do snippets of work for an international theatrical website called Broadway World and have a weekly spot on BBC Radio Kent.

It was for the broadcaster that I visited the new production of King Lear at the Old Vic last week, which boasts an all-star cast including former MP Glenda Jackson.

I'm well known as having a dreadfully short attention span, so I'll admit that the prospect of three and half hours of Shakespeare did fill me with dread. I also have a worrying habit of taking impromptu naps, if productions fail to engage me, so I made sure my theatre buddy for the evening was primed to give me a nudge, should I embarrass myself by snoring, drooling or sleep shouting.

Luckily, the play is stunning and I was absorbed throughout.

The same could not be said however for An Inspector Calls at the Playhouse Theatre. The one act two-hour long production of JB Priestley's classic work was so uninspiring that I woke up at the curtain call, having slept for good portion of the conclusion (whoops). It makes writing the review a bit tricky!

5 TIPS FOR USING AN ARCHITECT

By Julia Gray, Press Association

1. While architects can be expensive, they don't have to be and their knowledge and experience can be worth its weight in gold. As well as offering design expertise, architects can add value in lots of ways. They have technical knowledge, can help you negotiate the building regulations, party wall and planning process and can manage the project from start to finish, if you want them to, including finding and managing tradespeople and consultants. As they use these people regularly for projects, they may be able to get better prices than you can. They can help financially in other ways, too, such as devising the best design for your budget, improving energy efficiency and increasing your home's saleability and value.

2. A good first step is to go to the 'find an architect' section of the Royal Institute of British Architects' (RIBA) website - www.architecture.com. When you've found some suitable candidates, find out if they're interested in your project and what sort of ideas and relevant experience they have. If you can see similar projects they've done, this will give you a good idea of what to expect. It's also important to have a good relationship with your architect, as how you get on and work together can play a big part in the success, or not, of the project.

3. Once you've chosen an architect, drawing up a contract and giving them a clear brief is vital. Also establish how you'll be paying them. Some architects take a percentage of the total cost of the project, some charge per hour for the time they spend on it, and others charge a flat fee.

4. Your chosen architect should send you draft plans so you can see if they've understood what you want or not. If you'd like changes to the plans, make sure you see the revised versions before they're sent to the local council for planning permission - in my experience, miscommunication between you and your architect is all too easy. Your architect will also need to draw up plans for your builder and building control inspector - don't get builders round for quotes until you have these plans because they won't be able to work out the cost of the project.

5. If the prospect of finding and employing an architect seems too daunting, some building companies will do it for you. Loft-conversion specialists, for example, usually offer a complete renovation package, including the services of an architect, which makes life easier for you.

PRODUCTS OF THE WEEK

A popular way to seal new plaster is with watered-down emulsion, but it's extremely messy and not to be recommended. A paint designed for new plaster is a much better option, and they don't come any better than Wickes Trade Emulsion Paint for New Plaster in white (from £18.99 for 5ltr, or three for £15.20 each, Wickes). This paint allows plaster to breathe while drying and can be used as a topcoat as well as an undercoat, saving you time and money. It covers really well and seals new plaster without the mess of watery paint. If you have lots of new plaster to cover, the 15ltr tub, which costs £32.99, or £26.39 each if you buy three, is great value.

For an ultra-tough topcoat, try Dulux Trade Diamond Eggshell in Pure Brilliant White (from £35.98 for 2.5ltr, Wickes). This water-based paint can be used on woodwork (it gives a lovely matt finish) and masonry as well as plaster, but the main benefit is its durability - it's 10 times tougher than Dulux Trade Vinyl Silk. If you're repainting rooms ready for festive entertaining, this wipeable and stain-resistant paint is perfect because it can take anything badly behaved guests can throw at it.

HOW-TO TIP

New plaster can take a long time to dry at this time of year, but trying to speed up the process with heaters or dehumidifiers, for example, can cause the plaster to crack, so if you're not in a hurry, leave it to dry naturally.

Ready to Rok: New Volkswagen Amarok goes on sale

New Amarok available to order now; first UK customer deliveries due January

VOLKSWAGEN Van Centres across the UK have started taking orders for the new Amarok model, with first customer deliveries expected in January 2017.

Replacing the previous model's 2.0-litre TDI engine, the new Amarok has at its heart a 3.0-litre V6 TDI engine, making it the only six-cylinder model in the segment. The top-of-the-range version of this 3.0-litre V6 delivers 224 PS and 550 Nm of torque channelled through its standard eight-speed automatic gearbox, giving a top speed of 119 mph and a 0 to 62 mph time of 8.0 seconds. An overboost function on the 224 PS takes the power up to 240 PS. Further iterations of this V6 TDI engine include a 204 PS version which is available to order at launch with an automatic gearbox, plus a manual 204 PS and a 163 PS manual to follow later in 2017.

Combining car-like comfort and technology with full off-road capability, UK customers can choose from selectable (with manual gearbox) and permanent (with auto) 4MOTION four-wheel drive. An optional mechanical rear-axle differential lock is also available for demanding off-road use.

From the outside the new Amarok distinguishes itself from the previous model through new front bumper and radiator grille design including front fog lights, new alloy wheels and a third brake light with LED technology.

Inside the cab the changes are more prominent with an all-new dash panel design which incorporates Volkswagen's MIB infotainment system with touchscreen, radio and new technology including the option of navigation, Guide & Inform, Car-Net and App-Connect systems. Bluetooth and DAB digital radio are also now standard features.

A comprehensive list of safety equipment comes as standard on every new Amarok, including four airbags, Electronic Stabilisation Programme and Volkswagen's award-winning Automatic Post-Collision Braking System. Additional highlights including Park Pilot and a rear-view camera also enhance comfort, convenience and safety.

UK specifications follow the previous model's pattern and are familiar to buyers of Volkswagen's other commercial vehicles. As such they range from Startline (later in 2017), through Trendline to Highline. Special editions will also be offered during the model's life, for example the range-topping Aventura, 240 examples of which are available from launch.

The Aventura adds, on top of the Highline's already generous equipment list which includes items such as bi-xenon headlights with integrated LED daytime running lights, a host of special features including 19-inch alloy wheels with 255/55 wide tyres and arch extensions. The bed of the Aventura's cargo box also has a matt black Durabed coating. The interior is no less exclusive with 'Discover Media' navigation system and mobile online services. The Aventura also comes with ParkPilot automatic parking system, featuring front and rear parking sensors and a reversing camera. This model is available in exclusive Ravenna Blue metallic paint finish.

At launch, prices for the new model start at £32,493 (RRP OTR) for the Trendline with 204 PS. The limited edition Aventura launch model costs £39,381 (RRP OTR).

For further information on the new Amarok, visit your local Van Centre or go to www.volkswagen-vans.co.uk.

It's a Black or White decision – two new special edition Turismo MPVs from SsangYong OFFERING family and business users a car to transport seven adults in comfort together with their luggage, the SsangYong Turismo is almost without rival.

Now this capacious seven-seater is available as two stylish limited editions – Black or White, and as well as having a distinctive metallic Space Black or Grand White exterior, includes a smart new dark grey interior complete with new style seating. Other special features include a heated steering wheel, Kenwood DAB radio and sat nav.

Based on the top-of-the-range Turismo ELX with selectable four-wheel drive, these new special editions come with a premium specification that includes a 7-speed Mercedes-Benz automatic transmission, cruise control, parking sensors, rear seating privacy glass, 17" diamond cut alloy wheels, roof rails, heated front seats, rain sensing wipers and automatic headlights. These limited edition models are available from just £26,250.

At over 5 metres long and with a 3-metre wheelbase, Turismo is larger than a standard sized MPV people carrier, and features an upgraded 2.2 litre Euro 6 diesel engine.

Thanks to its 3,000mm wheelbase, the Turismo provides a huge interior space where seven adults can travel in supreme comfort with their luggage loaded in the back, and without having to compromise on passenger accommodation. There are three rows of seats as well as the large load space which can be further increased by removing the third row completely. This gives a massive load carrying capability of between 875 litres with seven adults seated, through to two adults and 3,146 litres of load space.

With its selectable 4x4 with low ratio, this Turismo special edition is a car you can rely on, no matter what the winter throws at you and is especially safe and practical whether towing a caravan, horsebox or boat trailer, or when driving on snow and ice, and has an impressive 2 tonne towing capacity.

The new Turismo utilises double wishbone front suspension and rear independent multi-link suspension for executive saloon style ride quality. This set-up offers a quiet and comfortable driving environment with firm body control, a flat ride and optimum stability regardless of the road conditions.

5-year limitless mileage warranty

All models in the SsangYong range are covered by a best-in-class 5-year limitless mileage warranty. Designed to be totally transparent and give customers complete peace of mind, 'limitless' means just that: not a maximum mileage condition that some brands impose in their small print. All the major mechanical components are covered including wheel bearings, suspension joints and bushes, steering joints, shock absorbers and even the audio system. Wearable components such as clutch discs and brake friction materials which could have their life reduced by poor driving are covered for one year or 12,500 miles, and the battery and paintwork for three years.

Decisions, decisions: The vibrant new up! offers 63,000 colour combinations

DAZZLING colour choices inside and out; sporty wheels and a broad variety of personalisation options make the new Volkswagen up! a kaleidoscope of automotive joy. Customers can choose their bespoke colour and trim combination from an exceptionally broad 63,180 potential variations.

The palette starts with a choice of 13 bold exterior paint colours, of which seven are completely new to the latest up!. This includes Volkswagen's eye-catching Premium Signature paint, which is available in bright Habanero Orange or rich Savanna Gold. The paint brings out the contours of the new up!'s revised bumpers and contrasts with the bright LED daytime running lights.

Choosing the colour of the up!'s smartly-designed bodywork is just the start of the journey, though. Volkswagen customers can then specify a different coloured roof to fit their preferred scheme, with the options being 'Black', 'White' or 'Grey'. The contrast between the roof and the bodywork can be particularly vivid, and can create a stylish combination that gives the up! a sporty finish or adds a premium designer tone to the city car's surfaces.

The door mirrors have caps that can be finished in the same tone as the roof, or even be matched to the wheels. In this way, the personalisation options of the up! are almost unique to each customer. For example, the offbeat 'Polygon Black' wheels can be ordered with a 'Fortana Red' or a 'Sandstorm Yellow' finish. The wing mirrors can then be trimmed in the same tone of red or yellow to match.

The same applies to the 'La Boca Black' wheels. In this instance, the wheels can be finished in 'Golden Beige', 'Hot Orange' or 'La Boca Grey'.

With the same colours applied to the wing mirrors, the up! becomes a city car that truly stands out in the urban environment. Other wheel options are finished in silver, white or anthracite.

The Volkswagen up! is a cheeky city car with its own personality. This can be further embellished with a range of six side decals, plus a roof decal which reads 'THIS SIDE up!' (£150 RRP). For those that are more daring, there's a 'Motorway' decal that paints a road up the up!'s bonnet and over the roof. And if that striking style statements gets a bit too much, the decals can be simply removed.

Once up! buyers have chosen their perfect exterior design specification, they can head inside the spacious cabin to add their own personal touches. This starts with the seat upholstery, which is available in eight colour combinations ranging from the bright 'beats' cloth and the savannah brown 'Art Velours' to a range of darker shades.

The upper dashpad is available in nine different designs, which include solid colours and a 'Pixels' finish. The Honey Yellow 2D Pixels and the Red 2D Pixels dash designs are no-cost options, and also come with the chance to finish the seat bolsters in Honey Yellow or 'Beam' Black/Red cloth. In addition, the up! beats models have a unique 'beats' dashpad finish.

Despite the dazzling array of choice the process of selecting a complete new up! design has been simplified, with Volkswagen offering customers the chance to specify pre-defined style packs. As an example, the 'La Boca Hot Orange' alloy pack includes 16-inch 'La Boca Black' alloy wheels with a 'Hot Orange' finish, with 'Hot Orange' door mirrors and side decals. All this for £375 RRP.

The Cube White 3D design pack includes a 'Cube White 3D' dashpad, Black or White decals on the door panels and Black, White or Grey door mirrors. This pack costs £110 RRP. Additional design packs include Wood 3D Pixels and Pixels Savanna Gold 3D.

Of course, sitting in the middle of the dashpad is the up!'s new smartphone cradle, in which the driver's smartphone connects to give access to just as broad an array of digital features. The smartphone becomes a part of the car, with its screen used to display features including Volkswagen's 'Maps + More' app, plus offering access to the driver's contacts and music library, and displaying data about the up!'s fuel consumption, among other useful tools. All up!s also come with the Composition Radio system with DAB digital radio.

Customers can experiment with Volkswagen's simple-to-use online configurator to find the interior and exterior combination that works best for them. Crucially, they can then save a unique code that means they can take their chosen up! design to their local Volkswagen Retailer, which makes the process of ordering their car quick and stress-free.

Adding further fizz to the funky new up! package is the arrival of the new 90 PS turbocharged petrol engine. Available to order from Volkswagen Retailers now from £11,350 (RRP OTR), this new engine shifts the High up! and the up! beats from a standstill to 62 mph in a sprightly 9.9 seconds.

For more details on the up!, together with brochures and pricing, and to use Volkswagen's online configurator, please visit www.volkswagen.co.uk.

BOVEY TRACEY 2

AXMINSTER TOWN 4

Division One (E)

WITH Oscar Latas now headed off to Premier Division outfit Bridport, Luke Finn filled the lone striker's role superbly with a hat-trick to double his tally for the season.

The hosts took the lead but it was to prove to be a false dawn as Ben Vine squared things up for Axminster 10 minutes before half-time.

Former Combe St Nicholas striker Finn then fired the visitors' ahead and went on to complete a fine triple.

Things went from bad to worse for Bovey who then had Dan Taylor dismissed before they grabbed a late consolation through Matt Churchill.

Next Saturday Axminster will be attempting to reach the quarter-finals of the Devon Premier Cup. Standing in their way will be reigning Devon & Exeter League Premier Division champions Newtown. Kick off at Tiger Way is 2pm.

MATCH REPORTS

BEER ALBION 2 CLYST VALLEY 2

Premier Division

BEER Albion fought hard to secure a precious league point in a 2-2 draw with Clyst Valley on Saturday writes Richard Honnor. The work rate on both sides could not be faulted, but it was a dour contest and not a great spectacle for the crowd of around 100 boosted by the annual ex-players' lunch.

The game could have been so different if the Fishermen had fully capitalised on their early pressure. With a strong wind at their backs, they made the perfect start going 1-0 ahead in less than a minute when a pass from Luke Morrison found Richard Walker whose first-time cross was netted by Jacob Clode.

Beer stormed forward and almost went two up on three minutes when Walker's header from close range hit the bar. Then on nine minutes a long free kick from Shaun Denslow bounced awkwardly and had Valley's keeper at full stretch as he scrambled the ball around the post.

Soon after Chris Long missed a great chance when Walker's cushioned header from a free kick found him in space but he shot wide.

At this stage Clyst had hardly got the ball out of their own half but they were handed a gift on 16 minutes when Beer gloveman Mark Rooke was dispossessed by Brad Palmer who tapped the ball into an empty net to level the scores.

Beer responded and regained the lead on 27 minutes, this time the Valley keeper made an error of judgement, calling for a through-ball which was never going to reach him, Long got there first and scored with a neat finish.

But the Fishermen failed to capitalise on the conditions, regularly over-hitting long balls instead of playing through the midfield and down the flanks.

Clyst were now well in the contest and Rooke made amends for his earlier slip with a good finger-tip save from a fierce strike.

The visitors were now winning the midfield battle and eventually their pressure told two minutes before half-time.

It was another gift for the visitors as an innocuous-looking cross somehow found its way through a ruck of defenders to the far post where it was tapped-in to make it 2-2.

Beer received a big setback straight after half-time when Walker, who has been struggling with a calf injury, withdrew himself from the fray.

Clyst Valley were now dominating possession and with the Fishermen's defence dropping deep their attacking options were almost non-existent.

The visitors had good chances to wrap the game up. First, Rooke made a good save at full stretch on 75 minutes, two minutes later the Valley winger glided past two defenders only to scoop the ball over from eight yards.

Beer's only chance of the half came on 83 minutes when Morrison scuffed his shot across goal but two minutes later Clyst thought they had won the game with a header but the effort was ruled marginally offside.

Sponsor John Wheeler Builders Ltd awarded man-of-the-match to Clyst Valley's central defender Richard Carpenter. Mike Wheeler, back at the Furzebrake after a couple of seasons, was Beer's best player on the day.

Next Saturday it's the local derby as Beer welcome SEATON TOWN to the Furzebrake in the Macron Premier Division. Another large crowd is expected and Kick off is at 2:15. Match sponsors are the Colcombe Beer Boys skittles team.

ALPHINGTON 3RDS 0 MILLWEY RISE 0

Division five

THIS was a game which gradually dissolved into a war of attrition at either end with defences resolutely fighting a rear guard action to hold out waves of attacks – young Frazer Beament deserves special mention for an outstanding display in the Rise back line.

The best move of the match saw an intricate passing sequence from Millwey resulting in Shane Featherstone cleverly beating the keeper but this was judged offside by the home linesman.

The game finished with Millwey on top but unable to make their advantage pay.

Sam Turner definitely deserved the MOM award and he, together with Beament, were Millwey's most prominent players.

D & E Round-up

A BEN ASHFORD strike saw HONITON TOWN maintain their 100 per cent home record with a hard fought win over Topsham Town at Mountbatten Park.

"We made hard work of it but Topsham were good value," said Honiton manager Kev Blackwell. The win takes the Hippos back a point clear in top spot.

Meanwhile, UPOTTERY were in the spotlight as BT SPORT filmed a documentary on grassroots football at Glebe Park, but neither the hosts or Heavitree United could conjure up a goal with Steve Morris missing a penalty for the Otters six minutes from time.

"No goals, but it was a cracking game," said Upottery manager Dan Prettejohn.

Over at Acland Park goals from Ben Allen and Charlie Selley (pen) earned FENITON a 2-1 win over visiting Exmouth Amateurs.

Not such good news from SEATON TOWN who went down 3-0 at home at the hands of title contenders and reigning champions Newtown.

In Division One COLYTON extended their unbeaten run to five matches with a 6-0 win at Alphington Reserves to move level on points with leaders Cronies FC.

Two George Richards goals had Colyton in charge at the interval and the went from strength to strength after the turnaround after weathering an early period of Alphas' pressure.

Cal Somers ended his five-game goal drought with the third and the game was over. Somers clearly rediscovered his shooting boots with two more to complete his hat-trick.

Jack Richards rounded things off for The Tanners who were well served by Keith Forsey in the midfield engine room.

Over at the Davey Fort LYME REGIS eased up to fourth with a clinical 6-0 demolition of struggling Bickleigh.

Cody Bowditch fired The Seaside ahead in the eighth minute and they never looked back.

Former Bridport skipper Darren Lock made it 2-0 soon after and Kieren Daniels tapped in number three just before half time and the same three players added to their personal tallies in the second period.

In Division Two Scott Dyer (2), Matt Ellis, Jack Harwood and Reece Hales scored the goals as AXMOUTH UNITED hammered Budleigh Salterton 5-0.

Down in Division Three AXMINSTER TOWN RESERVES' promotion push was dented when they let slip a 2-0 lead deep into the second half and were beaten by a last minute winner by visiting East Budleigh.

Alex Wheatley had a penalty saved for Ax in a goalless first half.

But strikes from Mark Hancock and Tony Pinder within a minute of each other seemed to have the points in the bag for the Tigers with just 18 minutes remaining – but the visitors had other ideas.

In the same Division, HONITON TOWN RESERVES banked three more useful points courtesy of goals from Luke Phillips and Harry Leisk in a 2-1 win at Clyst Valley Reserves.

Meanwhile, goals from Tom Collins kept OTTERY ST MARY in the Division Four promotion hunt with a 2-0 home win over Countess Wear.

Down in Division Eight AXMINSTER TOWN thirds had few problems in dispatching struggling hosts Bradninch 7-1. Darran Whitehouse (2), Michael Knight, Dan Turne (2), Steve Wooloff and an OG saw Ax cruise home.

Elsewhere, two fine saves by keeper Jack Bennett helped earn MILLWEY RISE RESERVES a battling Division Nine point after a 0-0 draw with visiting St Martins 3rds. Finally, a Ryan Packer double couldn't save HONITON TOWN 3rds who were beaten 4-2 by Chagford Reserves.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

HAWKCHURCH Utd faced a Merriott Rovers team who survived having to play the opening 20 minutes of Saturday's Division One cup semi-final with just 10 players and subsequently going a goal down before booking a place in the final.

Gavin Herrod got on the end of a James Melrose cross to head the Hawks in front.

But the depleted visitors, now up to their full quota of 11, clicked into gear to lead 3-1 at half time with goals from Sam Rowsell (2) and Jack Steer.

The Hawks rallied after the interval and pulled one back through a penalty from James Melville. This prompted a period of home pressure but they couldn't breakthrough again.

Having weathered the storm the Rovers added three more though Steer, Lee Holt and Luke Gosney. There could have been another but for a fine penalty save from home keeper James Mitchum - his third of the season.

Just two points from a possible nine has seen FARWAY UNITED'S push for promotion from Division Two stall slightly. They shared eight goals and the points at Thorncombe on Saturday. Fabio Souza (2), Jack Murrall and Liam Rogers netted for Farway.

Down in Division Three FARWAY UNITED RESERVES were well beaten 6-2 by high flying Fromton Rangers. Ben Harris and James Henley scored the consolation while Stuart Packer netted four times for Forton.

ilminster angling Charles beats chills

ELEVEN members were back on the Isle at the weekend and a drop in temperature made it hard going for some, although the leading weights were still very good. Justin Charles had the top weight with 13lb 3oz of roach and dace from peg 128 at Isle Brewers.

Steve Parker continued his fine form on the river with 11lb of dace and chublets from peg 14 for second place and Paul Homewood finished third with lots of small fish for 10lb 8oz from peg 126.

After four matches Steve Parker leads with two points followed by Graham Field and Jamie Rich, both on three.

The Xmas Fayre is on Sunday and the draw is at the Royal Oak between 8.30 and 9am.

Mant five points clear in Skinner salver

HONITON with John Pawley

THE table groaned with the weight and number of Cups, Trophies and Salvagers for the Annual Presentation Night last Saturday.

The snow of Friday had given way to the persistent and heavy rain over the weekend, which ensured that the course was also far too waterlogged for play on Monday and Tuesday.

The ladies arrived on Wednesday expecting to see the course closed sign but the hard work of the greens team, and the bright but cold weather made for a pleasant surprise.

An added bonus was that the bunkers were all GUR (ground under repair) for the competition – a Green-some played in pairs, with alternate shots, with both hitting off the tee, then choosing the best drive.

Catherine Doherty & Chris Luttman came in with 36 points to take first place. The next three pairs all scored 34 so count-back rules were needed. Jackie Seager & Tricia Swindell took second place, with Sue Ritchie & Lesley Farley third, and Gill Johnson & Stephani Barnes fourth.

Meanwhile, 60 Seniors contested a closely fought Texas Scramble on Friday when the four leading teams were separated by less than one stroke.

Alan Devenny, Rob Sexton & Derek Herrington eventually prevailed with a net 66.4, followed by Mike Stroud, David Lavender & Rod Armitage on 66.7. Howard Clark, John Vessey & Alex Neil were next with 66.8 and Paul Ritchie, Ted Chandler & Mike Delaney were fourth with 67.0.

For the second consecutive occasion, there was only one two, Peter Blake on the tenth, making him the lucky recipient of 39 balls.

AXE CLIFF with Peter Motson

FIVE of the Ladies Section members played a fun but competitive game in teams of three.

On each green was a Jack, Queen or King and, on three greens a joker in addition. Once on the green if it was a Jack, only one score counted, two scores counted for a Queen and all three for a King. Scores were doubled if the Joker appeared.

The scores were very close; 1st were Bee Sammons, Stella Thompson & Danusia White with 72 points. In 2nd with 70 were Pauline Willis, Sandra Walker & Jill Wellington.

In 3rd place on countback with 69 were Jo Donmall, Caroline Bond & Helen Kenworthy from Margaret Kenchington, Barbara Cummings & Janet Dack. Glenda Board, Helen Gaudie & Alison Cook finished fifth.

The Seniors section played for the Albert Skinner Silver Salver within their last November 15-hole Roll up and this resulted in a runaway win for ◆ GLITTERING AFFAIR: The packed trophy table at Honiton Golf Club's presentation evening.

John Mant with 35 points. In 2nd was Richard Orsman with 30 and 3rd with 29 was Alan Vincent.

A really excellent buffet was enjoyed prior to the after match prize giving, in which, the top spot went to Phil Christmas for the best aggregate score throughout the 2016 season.

Later the same week the Seniors played a Texas Scramble in bitterly cold weather. Gerry Turner & Mike Jamieson scored 61 to take first place. In 2nd with 62.5 were Dave Sammons & Mike Berry and in 3rd with 63 were Rob Heard & Leighton Morgan.

Four 2s were recorded, including an eagle on the par 4 sixth hole by John Mant. The other 2s were made by D Bruce, P McGuire and J Robinson all on par threes.

FORTY five Seniors entered a Bow-maker variation last Monday.

The chilly weather didn't seem to effect the players with several of the 15 participating teams scoring well over the standard 72 points mark.

Ron Sutherland, George Wallace & Georg Willerton finished first with a better bag 9 than the runners-up.

Result: 1st Ron Sutherland; George Wallace & George Willerton 81 points. 2nd Robin Flower; Roger Stone & Richard Forster 81, 3rd Maurice Arnold; Mike Hone & Frank Martin 77.

The deluge of rain caused the cancellation of Wednesday's competition, and the Seniors reconvened on Friday for the second round of the winter league program when the 20 participating pairs found conditions to their liking.

Results: 1st George Wallace & Ian Griffiths 46 points, 2nd Bob Hollingsworth & Iain Rowland 45, 3rd Nobby Hodder & Bryan Frost 45.
